

DO-X LANDS SAFELY AFTER TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT; IN AIR 3 DAYS FROM CAPE VERDE TO BRAZIL

City 'Playing Politics' in Gas Fight, Perry Charges

ATLANTA GRANTED 90 DAYS TO MAKE PLANT APPRAISAL

Utility Pleads for Tem- porary Increase in Rates Pending Determina- tion of Valuation. Hearing Closes.

CHAIRMAN SCORES BOROUGH OUTLAY

Company Cannot Function Without Confidence of People, State Leader Declares in Statement.

Granting the city of Atlanta 90 days in which to make a separate appraisal of the property of the Atlanta Gas Light Company, if it desires to do so, the Georgia Public Service Commission, through Chairman James A. Perry, Thursday afternoon brought the hearings on the rate increase petition to a close with a caustic attack on city officials for "playing politics."

James L. Mayson, city attorney, had requested the 90-day postponement of a decision on the company's application and announced that he would advise the commission June 13 whether or not it would be made. City council has appropriated $5,000 for the appraisal and the bill has been signed by Acting Mayor Millican. Mayson said Thursday night he was confident the survey would be made as soon as experts were located.

Temporary Rates Urged.

Meaning the commission has under advisement a plea made by Robert C. Alston, attorney for the gas company, to fix an interim schedule of rates under an agreement that if the city's appraisal showed a valuation which failed to justify higher rates than those now in effect, the company would make refunds to patrons.

Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company, a witness called by the commission, testified that his company had placed a valuation of $17,000,000 on the Atlanta Gas Light Company. Representatives of Atlanta have been unable to bring out, however, the actual cost of the plant, from either the gas company or the power company.

Perry questioned the wisdom of the city spending money to make a separate appraisal.

Saying that the commission would withhold its ruling on the Alston request for expediting a rate increase "for the time being," Perry declared that there existed in Atlanta "a terrible distorted view on the subject of natural gas rates."

American Minister Barred From Russia

BERLIN, June 4.—(UP)—The Soviet government has barred the Rev. John Haynes Holmes from Russia.

The Soviet action was revealed tonight after the American clergyman, whose home is in New York, had applied for a visa to visit the communist state.

It was believed the ban was due to the recent Soviet policy which has tended to exclude foreign clergymen, but friends of the Rev. Holmes continued their efforts to persuade the government at Moscow to revise its ruling.

Wiley Moore Presents $1,000 to Police Radio

WFDY, Atlanta's police radio, is $1,000 richer this morning because former Councilman Wiley L. Moore, president of the Wofford Oil Company of Georgia, remembered a promise he made last year.

Thursday he sent a check for $1,000 to Alderman Alvin Richards, chairman of the police committee, urging him to use it "as you see fit for the best interests of the system."

Richards said he will take the check to council and ask that it be placed in a special fund for use of the radio system.

SOULE'S REGIME AT STATE COLLEGE SCORED AT PROBE

Educator Charged With Keeping Secret Set of Books; Flat Denial Made by Educator.

Severe arraignment of the Georgia State College of Agriculture and of Dr. A. M. Soule, its president, embracing charges that the institution had a dual system of books, that milk sold from school dairies was not fit to drink and that the institution had become so commercialized that the teaching of farming had been "lost sight of" were made before the legislative reorganization committee Thursday by Thomas J. Shackelford, Athens lawyer.

Dr. Soule, in a statement at Athens, flatly denied all the charges made by Shackelford and said records at the college would disprove them.

"They have one book over there," Shackelford said, "that no one ever gets to see and I understand entries are made in it on the theory that no one has a right to inspect it."

Shackelford was pressed by Hugh Peterson Jr., chairman of the committee, to bring his informant before the committee for an examination.

"I wouldn't like to do that because it would mean that she would lose her job," he told the committee.

"Dr. Soule has in his employ persons who would be afraid to divulge information about the institution and the operations of its dairies," he said.

"Soule" would not employ anybody to work for him who isn't a slave," Shackelford replied.

Charges "Commercialization."

The Athens lawyer whose appearance before the committee was an unexpected one, charged that the state college is highly commercialized, that boys only go there to get jobs as agents or as teachers in other agriculture schools and that "Soule is the master of more than a million dollars for distribution annually."

The Athens lawyer told the committee that milk from the school dairy was unfit for the babies of Athens to drink and that professors in the institution, who had inspected the dairy, refused to drink the milk supplied from it.

Choice vegetables grown on the college farm, Shackelford said, are sold on the streets of Athens at prices above wholesale and the supply for the college dormitories are purchased in turn at a lower price.

VETERANS OF GRAY NAME MEMPHIAN, PICK RICHMOND

Confederacy's Finest Elect De Saussure Over Pierce by Vote of 690 to 159 at Reunion.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 4.—(AP)—The quartermaster of the United Confederate Veterans today named commander-in-chief, General C. A. De Saussure, of Memphis, an 84-year-old soldier who served throughout the War Between the States as a "private," in artillery.

General De Saussure will hold his office until the 1932 reunion, which the veterans today voted unanimously to hold in Richmond, Va., second capital of the Confederacy.

All the fire that carried them on through battle was evidenced by the veterans as the orators for the victor and his rival Tennesseean, General Rice W. Pierce, of Union City, Tenn., extolled their qualities for the post of commander-in-chief.

The presidential campaign of 1928 bubbled up as General J. H. Howell, of Bristol, Va., in placing General Pierce in nomination, said "He voted the straight democratic ticket in 1928." Attention of General Howell was called to the by-laws prohibiting mention of politics in the business sessions and he quickly made amends.

Managers for both candidates claimed the election before the roll call of states, but the poll showed De Saussure to have polled 690 and General Pierce 159. The second man to be congratulated, General De Saussure was his rival for the office who then turned and moved that the election be unanimous which motion prevailed.

General De Saussure reapportioned General Harry Renee, of Nashville, as adjutant general and chief of staff.

The election of officers over, General Pierce told the veterans he was a candidate for commander-in-chief in 1932 and would continue to be un-elected.

The veterans adopted resolutions expressing thanks to Montgomery and the state of Alabama for the hospital.

J. F. Cramer, of Orange, Cal., was elected vice president, while the new directors named were W. D. Allen, Brookline, Mass.; E. L. Wheeler, Whiteburg, Wash.; and W. W. Loomis, LaGrange, Ill., for three years.

Plans for the visit to Japan and China are also indefinite. Colonel Lindbergh said he and Mrs. Lindbergh had not decided where they would go, once they reached the orient. Neither have they determined how long they will spend in the two countries or whether they will fly back to the United States or ship their plane and take passage on an ocean liner.

Colonel Lindbergh stated positively that he would not start in less than 30 days.

He added that he had not yet made a request to the Soviet government for permission to land on Russian territory.

Newly Installed Pastor of Baptist Tabernacle Passes Unexpectedly at Home.

Dr. Gabriel Reed Maguire, newly installed pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, one of the largest churches in the south, died unexpectedly shortly after midnight at his home, 1014 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Dr. Maguire, who was 56 years old, suffered a heart attack just after midnight. Mrs. Maguire, noting his great pain, summoned the cook from another part of the house and called a physician. The pastor was dead when the doctor arrived.

Dr. Maguire preached his first sermon here on Easter Sunday, one of the largest congregations in the history of the church being present to hear him. He was introduced by Dr. J. C. Massee, who had filled the pulpit since the death of Dr. Maguire.

LINDBERGH, WIFE PLAN PACIFIC HOP FOR THIS MONTH

Famous Flying Couple Will Tour Orient for Several Weeks After Crossing North Pacific.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh tonight gave the Associated Press his first direct confirmation that he and Mrs. Lindbergh would fly across the north Pacific to the Orient. He said the flight would be made late this summer, explaining his plans were so indefinite that he could not prepare for it within 30 days.

At the Long Island Aviation Country Club, Colonel Lindbergh outlined as much of his plans as have been perfected. He said he long had wanted to visit the Orient, particularly Japan and China, and that Mrs. Lindbergh shared the desire.

The trip is to be their summer vacation journey. They have not as yet determined, however, where they will start, nor how long they will stay.

Colonel Lindbergh had been sought all day by newsmen following a statement of the state department at Washington that he had authorized announcement of his intention. This afternoon he flew in his Lockheed plane to the Glenn Curtiss airport at North Beach. He there ordered the Edco Company to equip it with pontoons.

Colonel Lindbergh said his plans were so indefinite that he had not yet studied the route he would take, further than to decide to fly along the west coast of Canada and cross the Pacific at some northerly point.

He has definitely determined that he will make no long water hops, having learned that he can cross the Pacific near the Bering straits where the distance over water would be but 56 miles.

Colonel Lindbergh indicated, however, that he considered it unnecessary to limit his water flight to that extent. He probably will cross the ocean at a point further south where the over-water hop will be somewhat greater.

Plans for the visit to Japan and China are also indefinite. Colonel Lindbergh said he and Mrs. Lindbergh had not decided where they would go, once they reached the orient. Neither have they determined how long they will spend in the two countries or whether they will fly back to the United States or ship their plane and take passage on an ocean liner.

Colonel Lindbergh stated positively that he would not start in less than 30 days.

He added that he had not yet made a request to the Soviet government for permission to land on Russian territory.

Coolidge Reported Wearied by Writing

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Former President Calvin Coolidge was said by authoritative sources today to have under consideration the question of taking a vacation from the writing of daily articles for a number of newspapers.

Officials of the syndicate distributing the feature declined to talk for publication, but a definite announcement of Mr. Coolidge's decision is expected Saturday. There have been reports that the former president desired to discontinue his newspaper work entirely and information on this angle may be included in the announcement.

FLORIDA HOUSE OVERRIDES VETO OF RACING BILL

Measure To Legalize Pari-Mutuel Betting Auto- matically Becomes Law by Action.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 4.—(AP)—The Florida house of representatives today overrode Governor Carlton's veto of the bill to legalize racing and pari-mutuel systems of wagering in the state. The bill automatically became law, the senate previous having overridden the veto. The house vote against the veto was 55 to 26, carrying the necessary two-thirds majority of all members present.

Representative Collier, of Collier, voted to sustain the veto but changed his ballot before the vote was announced.

The bill, the first ever to be enacted into law in Florida, legalizes racing and pari-mutuel gambling. A 15 per cent tax on admissions and 3 per cent of gross receipts of pari-mutuel wagering machines will be divided equally among counties.

The legislature's action made the measure law immediately.

Passage of the bill over the disapproval of the governor climaxed a controversy that has raged since 1911.

Racing has been conducted during Florida's winter seasons for many years, using oral and other systems of wagering. Court suits and injunctions have been numerous and in 1927 former Governor John W. Martin halted racing for a time when he threatened to send the state militia to tracks unless sheriffs enforced the state gambling laws.

When Governor Carlton learned the house had voted to override his veto, he said he had no comment. He declared his position had been set forth fully in his veto message.

The house vote was challenged by Representative Peter Tomassello immediately after Speaker Lewis announced the result. At Tomassello's suggestion, the speaker had the roll call verified. Tomassello said he had believed paired votes were to be counted.

Representative John T. Lowe, Hillsborough, also rose to ask his vote be included in the "yays." He was paired, and said he would not have done so if he had known such votes were not to be counted. He was ruled out of order.

Representative Chappell moved for a reconsideration on the vote but the speaker said the vote was not reconsiderable.

PARK PROPOSAL

BEFORE CARLTON

Proposal for state donation of 225,000 acres of south Florida lands for a national park today awaited approval of Governor Carlton before becoming a law.

The bill received final legislative action at hands of the house of representatives early today after a night session extended into morning hours. The senate passed the bill several days ago.

MAINTAINS SCHEDULED FLY- ING TIME IN EXCELLENT WEATHER ACROSS SOUTH ATLANTIC; ARRIVAL SUR- PRISES PENAL COLONY.

SUCCESS CROWNS MONTHS OF EFFORT

Huge Craft Reaches Fer- nando Noronha After Five Months' Series of Troubles on Way.

FERNANDO NORONHA, Brazil, June 5.—(Friday)—(UP)—A flying passenger ship, the Dornier DO-X, arrived here on schedule at 12:10 a. m. today (9:10 p. m. e. t. Thursday) after a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight from the Cape Verde islands.

The largest heavier-than-air craft in the world made the South Atlantic crossing of 1,855 miles from Porto Praia in 13 hours, 18 minutes. The ship alighted gracefully on the waters adjacent to the Fernando Noronha penal colony and taxied to shore.

The DO-X was in contact by radio with Brazilian officials here during most of the flight and made regular reports of uninterrupted progress. Officers of the giant sky liner reported no trouble on their long journey.

Thrill for Convicts.

Brazilian convicts, among them many dangerous criminals serving life terms in exile, received one of the few thrills in their routine existence when the motors of the DO-X were heard roaring off shore shortly after midnight.

The ship found its position easily over the rocky, wooded island which is 125 miles from the Brazilian coast, and came down in the waters where sharks are a constant threat to members of the penal colony who might attempt to escape to sea in frail craft. It then was taxied to shore.

Time of departure of the DO-X for Natal, on the northern tip of the Brazilian Atlantic coast, was not definitely fixed. It was believed the decision to stop here instead of continuing to the mainland was due to a desire of officials to see the ship's progress after the long non-stop flight. It was considered likely, however, that the DO-X would proceed to Natal today.

Conflicting reports from the DO-X regarding her ultimate destination—Fernando Noronha or Natal—decried considerably the crowd that had gathered on the beach to witness the arrival. A fairly large gathering was present, however, when the ship arrived, and the graceful landing was cheered loudly. The ship came down off San Antonio beach.

Good Fortune at Last.

Residents of Fernando Noronha, chiefly attendants at the prison camp and employees of the cable station here, saw in the arrival of the DO-X a break in the ill fortune that had followed the ship since she left Altenrhein, Switzerland, November 5, last.

She came, a forced landing on the English coast, to the port of Havre, after the ship had flown to Holland and visited Southampton. Other delays followed, and finally, as

MORTIMER SCHIFF DIES SUDDENLY

Widely Known Philanthropist Succumbs to Heart Attack.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Mortimer L. Schiff, widely known philanthropist, partner in Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and member of the stock exchange, died early today at his Oyster Bay home. A heart attack was given as the cause. He would have been 54 years old tomorrow. His valet, Galpin, found Mr. Schiff dressed in his pajamas, sitting in a chair on the second floor of his home. Dr. Raymond E. Lease, Oyster Bay, said death was due to a coronary occlusion, a form of heart disease. Justice of the Peace Augustus Morey declared the banker had been dead four hours when found at 8 o'clock this morning. He apparently had been in good health. He made his usual visit to his office. Yesterday he attended a luncheon to Frederick M. Sackett, ambassador to Germany. At 3 o'clock he left for Oyster Bay to join his daughter, Mrs. Richard B. W. Hall, in golf at the Piping Rock Club. After dinner with Mrs. Hall and his son, John Mortimer, who lives with him, he retired.

His philanthropies were many and varied, but he was particularly interested in the Boy Scout movement. On May 6, this year, he was elected president of the Boy Scouts of America at the 21st national meeting of the national council in Memphis, Tenn. He was born in New York, June 5,

Italo-Catholic Issue To Be Sermon Topic

The Catholic Action in its present relation with the Italian government will be discussed by the Rev. Father Joseph E. Moylan, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He will devote his sermon at that hour's mass to the subject which is under discussion throughout the ecclesiastical world. The solemnity of the feast of Corpus Christi will be celebrated at the same mass.

1877, the only son of the late Jacob Henry and Theresa (Loeb) Schiff. Mr. Schiff was educated in private schools. He attended Amherst College. He later studied banking in London and Hamburg. He joined his father's firm in 1900.

His business affiliations included directorships in the Chemical Bank & Trust Co. of New York and the Western Union Telegraph Company and many other interests.

He was vice president of the New York State Chamber of Commerce; trustee New York Zoological Society and New York Botanical Garden; president of the Jewish board of guardians of New York and held the rank of major in the military intelligence division, officers' reserve corps. He was an officer of the Legion of Honor of France, an officer of the Order of the Sacred Treasure in Japan and had received the Silver Wolf of the British Boy Scouts' Association and the Silver Buffalo, a corresponding award from the Boy Scouts of America.

One of his outstanding war-time services was as a member of the committee of 11 to co-ordinate army service agencies.

Funeral arrangements are awaiting word from Mrs. Schiff, who is in Paris.

Atlanta Schools Will Close Today; Vacation Begins

More than 1,500 students of Atlanta's junior high schools Thursday had completed their courses in those grades with closing exercises and more than 65,000 students were preparing for the summer vacation period, which will begin Saturday.

—When time after time Grandmother's Cakes prove themselves home-baked in quality, appearance, taste; when time after time it arouses real enthusiasm at the dinner table; when time after time the same incredibly low prices are maintained, Mrs. Housewife gladly concedes that home baking no longer pays.

DOMESTIC COTTON SALES SHOW RISE

The last half of National Cotton Week began today with Cason J. Callaway, of LaGrange, Ga., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, gratified by the success attained so far.

Reports from all co-operating agencies, Callaway said, indicate satisfactory results from the first three days. T. M. Forbes, secretary of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Georgia, announced that retail stores in this state have reported sales of cotton goods increased sometimes as much as three times normal volume as the result of the sales campaign made during the week.

Callaway said every available agency, including advertising, news stories, radio, displays and other mediums, had been used to fullest advantage in telling the story of the 932 listed uses of cotton. He said 279 cotton items ranging from beach pajamas and frail dress goods through toilet preparations and cooking oil to rough fabrics of tremendous strength for industrial uses had been advertised during the three days. The Cotton Textile Institute conducted a survey of leading newspapers to count the articles advertised.

ST. LUKE'S CALLS DR. J. M. WALKER

The Rev. John Moore Walker, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, of Charlotte, N. C., has been called to the rectory of St. Luke's Episcopal church here, it was learned Thursday. Advice from Charlotte quoted the rector as saying he had not decided whether he would accept the call. The St. Peter's rector is a graduate of the University of Georgia and the University of the South, and went to Charlotte in 1928 from Albany.

Walker was called to the local pulpit to fill the vacancy created when the Rev. Dr. N. R. High Moore accepted a call to the deanery of Pittsburgh cathedral.

The Rev. Walker is prominent in Episcopal circles throughout the south. He was born at Macon, and in 1910 was graduated from the University of Georgia. Three years later he was graduated with a bachelor of divinity degree from the University of the South at Sewanee.

Dispatches from Charlotte Thursday indicated that the St. Peter's rector would reach a decision on the call within a few days.

PRESS GREATEST INFLUENCE, GEORGE

transportation; they should have adopted and utilized the new means and methods of getting the freights and people of the country from place to place.

Cities Bus Situation.

"Although it is in the nature of prophecy, the timely effort and offer to co-ordinate the new means of transporting freights and passengers with rail service would have received favorable reception in the congress. Hampering restrictions, I believe, would have been removed and carriers given a free hand to round out the transportation system of the country, if a timely move in that direction had been undertaken.

"On the contrary, in too many instances the carrier insisted upon excluding the bus and truck from the highways through burdensome regulation and restriction. It complained that these new enterprises were not bearing their just and equal proportion of the public taxes. That they should bear their just proportion of the taxes and should submit to just and necessary regulation in the public interest is everywhere conceded.

"If this type of carrier executive had visualized his problem as one of transportation and had utilized the new means and methods at his command, it is altogether likely that he would not now regard these means and methods as destructive, competitive forces, wholly irreconcilable with his existing agency.

Takes Up Rate Schedules.

"It is estimated that a million passengers will be carried by the airplane during the current year. This million will be multiplied many times in the years just ahead of us. The carrier must step in line with progress and keep step with the progress of the times. In short, the carrier by rail must complete his job. He must handle the transportation problem of the country with the courtesy, convenience and facility made possible by these new agencies.

"The process of increasing revenue by increasing rates is exceedingly simple if it can be made to work. An increased rate upon the class of freight which must be carried by rail will of course increase the revenue of the carrier upon that particular class of freight. But will it increase the total revenue of the carrier? Will it not drive away other classes of freight? Will it not reduce on the whole the earnings of the carrier?

JOHN W. OWEN DIES AT DECATUR, ALA., HOME

John W. Owen, 70, of Decatur, Ala., died suddenly there Thursday noon. He was originally from Buford Ga. His son, Vaux Owen, is the head of the Atlanta branch of the United States veterans' bureau. Funeral services will be held today in Selma, Ala. Besides his son, he is survived by two other sons, Giff Owen, of Decatur, Ala., and John W. Owen Jr., of Leighton, Ala., and a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Crossland, of Atlanta.

ROYALTY OF BRITAIN HEAR ROSA PONSSELLE

LONDON, June 4. (AP)—King George and Queen Mary paid a visit to Covent Garden tonight to hear Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan Opera diva, sing "Forza del Destino," Verdi's great opera.

Their majesties arrived after the opera had begun and neither was recognized until after the first act. The queen wore a tiara of diamonds and sapphires and a gown of mauve and silver.

MAN'S BODY FOUND DEATH IS PUZZLE

J. E. Cassidy, 50, of 231 Madison avenue, was found dead in Piedmont park Thursday morning by an employee of the park. He had been shot below the heart by a .32 caliber pistol, the bullet being found beneath the skin in the back. Powder burns, indicating that the shot was fired at close range and two notes addressed to his family led the police to believe that the shooting was suicide.

An inquest will be held today at a time to be set this morning.

No weapon was found near the body, however, and a careful search in the underbrush and creek nearby failed to reveal it. The only explanation that the police had to offer Thursday night for the missing gun was that it had been picked up by a passer-by who was afraid to report finding the body.

One of the notes, both printed on a handkerchief in pencil, said, "To mother and the boys: Please forgive me. Dad." The other gave the name of Harry Cassidy, a son, and asked that he be notified at "Official 8600, extension 447."

DR. CARROLL G. BULL DIES AT BALTIMORE

Dr. Carroll Gideon Bull, 47, professor of immunology of the school of hygiene and public health at Johns Hopkins University, died Sunday at the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, from the effects of a breakdown suffered about 18 months ago. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Zelma Smith, of Atlanta, and one child.

One of the outstanding men in his branch of the profession, Dr. Bull spent the greater part of his life after completing his studies in research and teaching such branches of medical science as would be of the greatest aid to humanity. He taught bacteriology and pathology until 1917, when he entered the medical corps of the army, serving with the American troops with the rank of major. When he returned, he was made assistant professor of immunology at Johns Hopkins and three years later became a full professor.

Farmer Who Defied Grand Jury Freed

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 4.—(AP)—Berry Giles, 40, a farmer who was sent to jail Tuesday by Circuit Judge Dexter Bush for refusing to give the grand jury information in a liquor case, was released today.

Prosecuting Attorney Millard Alford said Giles had furnished the information desired, but this was denied by Giles who told newspapermen he was freed despite his refusal to answer the questions.

aviation will launch their planes into the air to the clicking of stop watches this afternoon at Piedmont park at 2:30. The contest will be staged at the polo field.

A. A. James, known throughout the country for his work among boys and owner and director of Camp Dixie for Boys in north Georgia, will be in charge of the contest for The Constitution, and Willis B. Haviland, noted war pilot and aviation expert, will be the sole judge of the flights to decide the various winners.

The boy whose plane flies the longest will be declared winner of first place and will receive the month-long campship to Camp Dixie, while second and third winners will be given a 30-minute flight in one of the big passenger ships of the Curtis-Wright Company, with instructions in flying by one of the officials of the company.

In addition the 10 boys whose planes fly the longest will be taken on a tour of the extensive shops at Candler field of the Eastern Air Transport. The tour will be in charge of Richard L. Hull, Atlanta traffic manager of the company, who will describe in minute detail to the members of the party just how an airplane is built. The big plant includes an engine shop where motors are rebuilt, the airplane repair department where an entire airplane can be built, parachute packing loft, radio room where messages are received and sent to the planes while they are on their regular schedules, and the instrument room where the delicate instruments which are installed on airplanes are kept in perfect adjustment and condition.

GARRISON QUARRELED, SAYS MISS BRADSHAW

Alibi of Former Atlantan
Attacked by Prosecution
at Trial.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 4.—(AP)—Edith Bradshaw, testifying today at the preliminary hearing of Moss E. Garrison, former Atlantan, charged with the murder of her sister, said the 37-year-old railroad commissary clerk quarreled frequently with Hazel Bradshaw, the slain girl, whose body with 17 stab wounds was found a month ago in a park.

The girl testified she often accompanied her sister and Garrison to theaters. She said as they walked home Garrison many times chided Hazel jealously for speaking to some other man at the San Diego & Arizona Railroad office where they both worked.

Once, she said, the quarreling became so violent that Hazel and she ran, but Garrison caught them and bumped their heads together.

The state charges Garrison slew Hazel in a jealous rage. Garrison admitted he accompanied Miss Bradshaw to two shows the night of May 2, and then walked home with her through the park. He asserts he took her to her door, and left her at midnight to run for the last street car back to town. The defense declared she met another man, her slayer, after Garrison left.

Prosecution witnesses, during today's session of the hearing attacked the alibi in many particulars. G. H. Hughes, motorman of the street car on which Garrison rode, testified the accused man boarded his car at 12:13 a. m. May 3, the day the body was found, at a point nine blocks nearer the park than the corner beside Miss Bradshaw's home, where often he waited before.

SCIENCE AS PEACE FOE ASSAILED BY BAPTIST

Rev. G. F. Finnie Declares
Threat Against Religious Belief Is Small.

KANSAS CITY, June 4.—(AP)—The threat of science against the peace of the world is more dangerous than its threat against religious beliefs, the Rev. George F. Finnie, of Camden, N. J., told delegates to the Northern Baptist convention here today.

"Einstein," he said, "may more safely be immortalized in stone on the facade of a Baptist church than some other scientists who had better remain unnamed. At least his theories will not be used to destroy men and women and children."

Referring to clashes between fundamentalists and evolutionists he said: "When religion learns the lesson that it ought to have known by heart long ago, namely that there is no real conflict between it and pure science, it will be good for both science and religion; for, after all, science is a method of investigation and religion is a mode of living."

The convention, which has been exploring the dangers of this machine age to standards of living, employment and morals, turned its attention also, today, to prohibition. Its committee on prohibition and law enforcement completed a report which calls prohibition the "best solution of the 'war problem,'" finds great benefits have been derived "from even an imperfect trial" and commends President Hoover "for his courageous and clear defense of the constitution and his unmistakable stand for prohibition."

Speaking on the night program, Dr. Justin Wroe Nixon, of Rochester, N. Y., described the present depression as "misery of millions in the midst of plenty."

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead? Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts. This remedy has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of an operation until you have tried a bottle of HEM-ROID tablets. Jacobs' Drug Stores guarantee money back if they do not end Piles in any form.—(adv.)

ALLIES OF CAROL LEAD IN ELECTION

BUCHAREST, June 4.—(P)—Official election returns tonight indicated that King Carol's government party, with its allied parties, had secured 290 of the 387 seats in the national assembly.

Of these, nearly 100 seats went to the liberals and the German party, and it was expected they would probably be inclined to oppose the government.

It was believed the government would have an insignificant majority or none at all if it were deserted by the liberals or the German party.

Northington Faces False Entry Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 4.—(P)—Allen Northington, until recently, president both of the American and the Alabama Cotton Associations, was released under bond of $10,000 here today following his appearance before the United States commissioner on a charge of violating the national banking act.

The charge was brought in connection with the recent closing of the First National bank, of Prattville, Ala., of which Northington was president.

His brother, Edward Northington, of Prattville, vice president of the bank, appeared, with his brother, to answer a similar charge and was released in a bond of like amount. Neither of the Northingtons could be reached for a statement. United States District Attorney Grady Reynolds, upon whose charges the brothers were held, said he had been informed by examiners from the comptroller of the currency that the shortage at the Prattville bank was about $300,000. It was at this same bank last night that W. E. Roper, of Decatur, Ala., who had been appointed liquidating agent, was found with a bullet hole through his head. A note found in the pocket of his coat influenced a coroner's verdict of suicide. It was learned that he had not taken over the affairs of the bank or had access to its records when he was killed.

Caught Short!

"Caught short" on ice cubes... not as disastrous as being "caught short" on the stock market, but very embarrassing! Contrast this situation with the advantages of Ice Refrigeration. Think of the convenience of always having plenty of pure, taste-free ice ready for use.

Summer is here and when you are hot and thirsty you will not enjoy "waiting for the tubes to freeze." Use an Ice refrigerator and be assured of all the crystal-clear ice you want, at any time. Don't embarrass yourself by having to serve lukewarm water, tea or beverages, to your guests when the "cubes" run out. Use real ice! Be cool and carefree!

Over four hundred and fifty Ice Delivery Units assure continuous efficient service to the homes of Atlanta. The Ice Industry expends, in payrolls alone, over $1,000,000.00 annually in Atlanta. Over 1,000 employees, and their families, spend this money right here at home.

New York Mutual Selects Ottley for Trustee Post

Recognition of his distinction in the financial field was paid Thursday to John K. Ottley Sr., president of the First National Bank of Atlanta, when he was elected to the board of trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

In addition to Mr. Ottley, two other new trustees were appointed at the meeting of the board held in New York Thursday. They were Charles Proctor Cooper, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; and S. Sloan Colt, vice president of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York.

Associated with Mr. Ottley on the board of trustees are a number of the most distinguished financiers and business men in the United States. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is rated as one of the highest assurance organizations in the world.

Selection of Mr. Ottley as a trustee of the insurance company follows closely upon another honor paid him when he was elected a member of the federal advisory board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. Mr. Ottley likewise is a member of the board of directors of the Central of Georgia railway and of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

An alumnus of Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn., Mr. Ottley began his official banking career in 1898 when he was elected cashier of the American Bank and Trust Company, which later became the Fourth National Bank. In 1905 he became vice president of the Fourth National, and in 1919 was elected president. When the Fourth National became the First National Bank of Atlanta he was unanimously chosen president.

STATE DEMOCRATS ELECT HUEY LONG

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—(P)—Huey P. Long, governor and United States senator-elect, was today unanimously elected democratic national committeeman for Louisiana to succeed the late Colonel Robert Ewing, newspaper publisher.

Governor Long was named committeeman at a meeting of the state central democratic committee at which 88 of the total membership of 104 were present in person or by proxy. He not only received the vote of his strongholds in the rural sections, but also the solid support of the New Orleans old regular democrats, the group which led the movement for his impeachment two years ago.

TRAINMEN RENAME WHITNEY AS HEAD

HOUSTON, Texas, June 4.—(P)—Alexander F. Whitney, Cleveland, Ohio, was re-elected president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in convention session here today. Other officers elected were: J. A. Farquharson, Cleveland, assistant to the president; George W. Anderson, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Babe, of St. Thomas, Ontario, senior vice president; S. R. Harvey, Cleveland, second vice president; and William Bishop, Chicago, third vice president.

W. L. Reed, of Mauchauk, Pa., and Joe Steadham, of Fort Worth, Texas, were nominated for the office of fourth vice president just before adjournment of the convention in the afternoon, but were not balloted upon.

Contracts Awarded.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(P)—The navy today awarded contracts for $175,279 of construction and repairs at widely scattered yards and bases. A $82,140 contract for a disciplinary barracks at Quantico, Va., went to Green & Stone, of Welch, W. Va.

KILLER DIES OF WOUND INFLECTED BY VICTIM

WABASHA, Minn., June 4.—(P)—Roy Ashley, 38-year-old section worker, of Beaver Dam, Wis., died today in a hospital, 24 hours after he was shot by Evelyn Brown, 15, whom he kidnapped and slew after the girl had wounded him fatally.

Ashley killed the girl after she shot and wounded him in the abdomen near Winona, Minn., yesterday when they stopped to fill the automobile radiator.

He was taken to the hospital after the slaying and confessed he kidnapped the girl for her home Tuesday night over protest of her mother.

Just before he died today he told authorities he had been infatuated with the girl and had planned to flee to Montana with her.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE VOTED IN DUNN DEATH

A verdict of suicide was returned by the coroner's jury Thursday in the shooting of E. Leo Dunn, 25, employee of the Georgia Power Company, whose body was found in a vacant lot Wednesday, after several passers-by had heard a shot. Dunn's father and brother both testified that Dunn had said on several recent occasions that he would kill himself, adding that he was melancholy and depressed. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the St. Paul Methodist church, the Rev. Felton Williams officiating. Interment will be in West View. Pallbearers will be: W. E. Clark, L. R. Kroboth, Gordon Bennett, G. W. Lyon, W. D. Copeland and T. F. Steele.

COLUMBUS, GA., GIRL SEEKS ANNULMENT

Miss Lenna N. Cooper, of Columbus, Thursday sought annulment of an allegedly "fake marriage" to J. G. Heuer. The bride of "three days" claimed in the petition filed in Fulton county superior court that the rites were performed by "a man named Tompkins," who it is alleged is not a minister and could not legally perform such a service. The petition also sets out that Miss Cooper did not want to enter into the ceremony, but was induced to do so through promises by Heuer that he was willing and able to support her. The promises also were false, the petition alleges.

I. C. C. ENDS STUDY OF ROAD TRAFFIC

Recommendations on Issue Will Be Made at Next Congress Session.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission has completed a two-year inquiry into the nation's bus and truck transportation question and plans to submit recommendations on its findings to the next congress.

Before the final report is drafted, however, the commission will have laid before its examiners on the basis of evidence placed before them by organizations, railroads and persons during the hearings.

The commission now has authority to regulate interstate bus and truck transportation and railroads are not permitted to engage in highway traffic directly.

Two years ago the commission, after being told by railroads that the truck and bus systems were making serious inroads into their traffic, both freight and passenger, initiated the proceeding with a view to trying to develop coordination between highway and railroad transportation.

At the close of the hearings here recently, all parties were given until June 1 to file briefs.

The National Grange, the bus and truck organizations, the Automobile Chamber of Commerce, and even one or two railroads asked the commission to recommend that there be no federal regulation of highway traffic. The Delaware & Hudson railroad varied somewhat from the other lines in urging the commission to urge congress to remove restrictions on "managerial functions" of the railroads.

The motor bus and truck organizations expressed fear that regulation would lead to monopoly and argued railroads should be barred from the highways.

HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION ELECTS LEE GOODWIN

NORFOLK, Va., June 4.—(AP)—Colonel Lee Goodwin, of Emporia, Va., was today elected president of the Atlantic Coastal Highway Association at the concluding session of the eleventh annual convention.

He succeeds Joseph C. Stehlin, of Jacksonville Beach, Fla., who declined re-election after a service of several years. Colonel Stehlin in declining referred to suggested criticisms of his administration, growing to some extent out of rivalry over routes that should be designated officially by the association.

Other officers elected were: D. D. Saunders, of Elizabeth City, N. C., secretary, and Albert Sidney Johnson, of Smithfield, Va., treasurer.

Beauties of Atlanta To Parade Saturday In Quest of City Title for Pulchritude

The grand beauty promenade, most spectacular feature of The Atlanta Constitution-Capitol theater beauty contest, will get under way Saturday. Three shows, featuring an all-Atlanta cast of beautiful girls, will be staged at the Capitol theater. Three other shows will be staged Monday.

Watch the hours when the girls go on: 3, 5:30 and 9 p. m. Make your reservations ahead of time if you want to act as a judge in the contest, for the audience will indicate, by applauding, or failing to applaud, its choice for the title of "Miss Atlanta" or "Miss Georgia." The successful candidate will be sent to represent Atlanta at the international beauty pageant in Galveston, Texas, where "Miss Universe" will be named and presented with a capital prize of $2,500.

After the field is narrowed down by the audience, expert judges will pass upon the claims of each for the Atlanta prize, which is a free trip, with chaperon, and all expenses paid, to the international pageant.

The attached photograph will give you a faint idea of what to expect in the way of feminine loveliness. On the stage at the Capitol, probably the best-looking "chorus" ever assembled in Atlanta will step out Saturday and Monday. Your applause will decide the issue for that round. Remember, there will be three shows each day. And don't forget the hours.

23 MORE ARE INDICTED FOR VOTE TERRORISM

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—Twenty-three more Watauga county citizens, charged with conspiracy to injure persons who sought to exercise their civil rights in last fall's elections, were indicted by the federal grand jury here today.

Intimidation of would-be voters, through use of fire arms, is charged in the indictments which brought the number of defendants in such cases to 41. Eighteen had already been indicted. The charges grew from election fights.

TECH SENIOR WINS YALE SCHOLARSHIP

R. P. Williams Jr., of Coffee Springs, Ala., Georgia Tech senior, has been awarded a scholarship to the

R. P. WILLIAMS JR.

Electrical Engineering Department of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale University. This is said to be one of the highest honors that may be given a college senior majoring in electrical engineering.

Williams will get his B. S. degree at the graduation exercises on the Tech campus next Monday. He has taken the co-operative course, which requires that a student work twelve weeks, alternating with twelve weeks in the classroom in order to get his degree. He is a member of many school societies.

RED-CROSS MOVES ITS HEADQUARTERS

Campaign headquarters for the "roll call" of the American Red Cross have been removed from 115 Peachtree street to 80 Forsyth street, in the Piedmont hotel building. Walter C. Hendrix, chairman, announced Thursday.

Frank Eaves, chairman in charge of the courthouse, reported that several departments of the county government had been enrolled 100 per cent, executives and employees. E. S. Center, of the Atlanta & West Point railway, has accepted the chairmanship of that division and will cover the various offices of the company.

MISSISSIPPI CASHIER ENDS LIFE WITH GUN

HATTIESBURG, Miss., June 4.—(AP)—Harry B. Spence, 32, assistant cashier of the Commercial National bank which closed here Tuesday, shot and fatally wounded himself today in a downtown tailoring shop. Police reported the case a suicide.

Officers said Spence shot himself in the temple with a pistol. He died shortly afterwards at a hospital. Officials of the closed bank said that the assistant cashier's accounts at the institution were in good order. They expressed the opinion that automatic loss of his position and ill health probably prompted his act.

He is survived by his widow and seven small children.

Myers Plea Filed.

Application for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment was filed with the prison commission Thursday in the case of Arthur Myers, Augusta negro, whose case is known as the "last of the hanging cases" in Georgia. Myers sentenced to hang next Friday for the murder of W. F. Gunn, railroad detective, was convicted in 1928.

Baseball, Campaigning Mixed in Mississippi

WATER VALLEY, Miss., June 4.—(AP)—Somebody counted the candidates for sheriff here in Yalobusha county, found out there were nine and decided something should be done about it. The candidates thought so, too, so they organized a baseball team and tomorrow will take on the eight candidates for tax assessor-napriants, who will be allowed to draw another player from the list of other county candidates.

The game will feature a political rally and each man coming up to bat will be allowed a few minutes to tell why he should be elected over his teammates.

ECONOMIC PARLEY OPENS HERE TODAY

The southeastern economic conference, called to further the development of industry and agriculture in Georgia and to bring to this section the benefits of organized leadership, will convene at 10 o'clock this morning at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Among those who have accepted invitations to attend the conference are Robert Ramspeck, member of congress for this district; Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president Georgia State College of Agriculture, Athens; William D. Anderson, president Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon, and Ivan Allen, of Atlanta.

Edward F. Gerish, marketing specialist, department of commerce, Washington, will attend accompanied by Walter C. Taylor, of Charlotte, acting secretary of the department of commerce at Charleston, Charlotte, Mobile, as well as Atlanta, will also be present.

6 BILLION OFFERED FOR BOND ISSUE

$800,000,000 Block Is Oversubscribed Seven and One-Half Times.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—Popularity of government bond issues through which the United States raised money for the World War was evidenced again today when Secretary Mellon said an $800,000,000 issue announced Monday had been oversubscribed seven and one-half times in three days.

In a statement, Mellon said $6,000,000,000 had been subscribed for the 18-year, 3 1/8 per cent bonds to be issued June 15. The allotments will be announced later, probably tomorrow night.

While treasury officials had expected the bond issue would be oversubscribed, the eagerness with which it was sought was received with surprise and credited to a desire by investors to put their idle money to work in safe investments.

It also was pointed out that government bonds could easily be converted into cash. The bonds will be tax exempt except for inheritance, estate taxes and surtaxes.

Treasury experts agreed, however, that some of the oversubscription was due to padding by investors who, wishing a certain amount of bonds and knowing the issue would be oversubscribed, submitted proposals asking for three or four times the amount they actually wanted. By doing this, they hoped that when the allotments were announced they would receive approximately the amount they wished.

The bond issue is the first move by the treasury to reduce the size of its outstanding short-term paper through which funds have been raised to operate the government in face of declining revenues and increasing expenditures.

Parrot Named in Will Of Woman Millionaire

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., June 4. (AP)—"Tolly," 66-year-old parrot of the late Miss Anna G. Burt, of St. Augustine, was named as one of the beneficiaries for the remainder of its life under terms of Miss Burt's will filed for probate here today.

Value of the estate was estimated at between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

The largest single beneficiary listed is the Flagler hospital here. Rollins College at Winter Park was given $14,000 to be used as scholarships for girls.

tion's highest office took place at the closing session Thursday.

Governor Roosevelt in his letter expressed his regret at being unable to accept the invitation to greet the editors in person. He told them he had only just returned from a hurried trip to France to see his mother.

The letter of the governor said that in his own state of New York "we have greatly reformed and improved our state government, but in our town and county governments the functionaries are under archaic and obsolete systems which have changed little in many generations. Under systems of fees and duplications of effort, party patronage in our local government has become a profession for the favored few and highly extravagant for the average taxpayer."

The governor said that the education of the individual voter "lies in the rural press. No city paper can supply this lack. It is, therefore, to the interest of every state to encourage the maintenance of a local press which, free from any political influence, will frankly when things go wrong, praise when praise is deserved, and at the same time keep its readers constantly informed of what is going on. In line with the thought that the government is at all times a function of the state, I believe that state governments should give serious study

New Officers Are Selected by Convention N. E. A.

printing trade. They opposed the proposed increase in the postal rates for second-class matter. They recommended continued co-operation with committees representing schools of journalism; favored extension of the audit of circulations and approved efforts to install cost accounting systems in print journals. They opposed any suggested decrease in newspaper sales rates for advertising, pointing out that the cost of publishing had not decreased.

The resolution committee approved the announcement of "leading picture producer and distributor" of its abandonment of the "noble experiment" of sponsored advertising, and the "inclination of their fellow producers to retire from that field also."

The resolution committee approved the announcement of "leading picture producer and distributor" of its abandonment of the "noble experiment" of sponsored advertising, and the "inclination of their fellow producers to retire from that field also."

The principal address of the editors' final session was delivered by Marcy B. Darnall, president of the Alabama Press Association and editor of the Florence Herald, on the "Importance of the Editorial Page."

"The highest function of the editorial page is to influence the thought and action of its readers," Mr. Darnall said. "But it may serve other useful purposes by imparting information, by interpreting the news, by stimulating discussion of serious current problems and by affording entertainment."

William L. Daley, Washington representative of the association, addressed the editors on the radio situation, pointed out that "the radio as a competitor of the newspaper in distribution of news is assuming formidable proportions. Just like the average editor's attitude regarding radio advertising a few years ago, the news competition angle is not regarded as seriously as it deserves. There are less than 100 newspapers having a radio outlet, but there are several thousand newspapers which must look at this competitive situation from another perspective. To blink our eyes at this time would be as effective as an ostrich burying its head in the sand. While there has been no widespread publicity, underground movements are gradually cropping up."

Following the election of officers Thursday a big ovation was given the newly elected president when Mr. Nichols was called to the platform. This was followed by a series of tributes to the retiring president, Mr. Dilliver. On behalf of the Bristle (Okla.) Rotary Club, the Atlanta Rotary Club, represented by J. R. Holliday and Charles Howard Candler, presented Mr. Nichols a basket of flowers. A writing set from the staff of the Bristle Record was tendered the incoming president through John Casey, Norman, Okla., while another floral offering from the Bristle Chamber of Commerce was tendered through B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"Even if through the administration of the law or the making of new laws the progress of these new agencies may be temporarily retarded, we may be sure that such administration and legislation will be unable to stand against an aroused and enlightened public opinion."

Senator George said that he does "not suggest that any of the new agencies now in sight may prove in practice to be competitive and destructive forces of your enterprise—the press. I entertain no such belief. Yet our British friends, within the week, have remained in their homes and offices and watched the progress of the horse upon the track, from the parade to the final flash."

"The Press Is Free," he concluded by saying it is "certain that the press can convert the new agencies as they may arise into friends if they but grasp the opportunity to co-ordinate them with existing agencies as a part of the great agency of public information and education."

"The freedom of the press is not an empty phrase," the senator said. "The press of America, meaning the United States of America, of course, is

Flight Is Success In Rocket Glider

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 4. (AP)—William Swan, stunt flyer, today successfully completed a flight of 350 yards in a rocket-propelled glider. The 200-pound craft attained a height of 100 feet and landed without mishap.

Although 10 rockets, designed to keep the craft in the air for a half hour by successive explosions are carried in the plane, Swan used only one today.

The very freedom of the press depends more upon the compelling power of enlightened public opinion than upon the law of the land, statutory or organic. Here the speaker called attention to the recent decision of the supreme court in which he said "five of the justices were of the opinion that the freedom of the press was infringed in the case upon review and four of the justices were of the contrary opinion."

He said that "no censorship within the limitations of our constitution, state or federal, can be so effective and compelling as the censorship of public opinion."

The banquet was a brilliant affair, with Robert F. Maddox presiding, Miss Emily Woodward, of Vienna, Ga., was among the speakers.

A highlight in the evening was the presentation of a watch to the retiring president, George B. Dilliver, of Battle Creek, Mich., by L. M. Nichols, Bristow, Okla., newly-elected president, and J. F. Cramer, er, Orange, Cal., new vice president, were presented to the members during the evening's program.

Final plans for the tour of Georgia by the members of the association, starting from the Terminal station at 8 o'clock this morning, were announced by Louis L. Morris, president of the Georgia Press Association.

IT'S UNNATURAL FOR NERVES TO BITE ... BUT THE RASCALS MUST BE FED

MODERN LIFE and work is a constant strain to nerves. We expend energy with reckless abandon. Soon exhaustion comes, and we run on nerve alone. The hours wear on and the nerves get raw. Now we ask you, "Is that nice?" Some people try to "outwit their nerves" by psychology and mental control. But a better plan is to slip out and drink a bite to eat at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock.

Besides a delicious combination of fruit juice, essences and extracts, Dr. Pepper contains a full ounce of pure cane sugar. In the chemistry of syrup making this is made "invert," which means, in effect, that it is practically pre-digested. Like a flash, the blood drinks up this new energy. What a pleasant way to keep on the good side of "nerves." Try it. You'll be surprised.

NINE-VOTE VERDICT LAW IS PROPOSED

Irwin Representative Seeks Change in Jury Rule in Some Cases.

OCILLA, Ga., June 4.—Legal reforms to permit return of a true verdict by as many as three-fourths of a panel in other than felonious cases, and to permit voters otherwise qualified to participate in all elections upon payment of poll tax only, will be proposed during the forthcoming general assembly by Representative-elect Warren R. Nixon, of Irwin county, he has announced.

In letters sent to superior and city court judges, solicitors general and members of the legislature throughout the state, Mr. Nixon has explained in detail his proposed legislation and sought comment upon the local effect of such measures in the cities and counties they represent.

The first of these measures, he states, would provide "for the rendition of a verdict by a jury when as many as three-fourths of the panel shall concur in a finding, affecting all civil and misdemeanor cases, now requiring unanimity of the entire panel of twelve." It would not affect the trial of felonious cases.

"Such legislation," he asserts, "will tend to greatly reduce the costs of court, by practically eliminating mistrials, and generally accelerating the making of verdicts."

The other measure, to take the form of a constitutional amendment, would provide that "a voter in other respects qualified to vote shall, if he has paid his poll tax (not all taxes), be permitted to vote in all elections."

Mr. Nixon also points out that many persons engaged in the administration of Georgia courts have urged abolition of the present system of alternative or indeterminate forms of verdicts in criminal cases as being "worthless and both tedious and annoying for the average juror to understand, in meaning and form." While he states he will not include this matter in his bill, he urges court officials to give it their consideration and investigate local opinions on the problem.

FARM TEACHERS END CONFERENCE AT TIFTON

TIFTON, Ga., June 4.—(AP)—The three-day session of the south Georgia vocational teachers came to a close here this afternoon. The morning session was featured by addresses by Paul W. Chapman, state supervisor, and M. B. Mobley, in charge of the work in south Georgia. The balance of the day was taken up with reports and discussion of problems confronting the teachers.

J. Phil Campbell, director of extension work for Georgia, told the teachers' conference that Georgia farmers are paying 20 to 50 per cent this year for the financing of their farm operations, in a discussion of farm credits in Georgia. He also told the teachers of a farm credit organization being formed with headquarters in Atlanta which will make it possible for farmers to be financed at a much lower rate. The organization will be financed by government money and will have local agencies in every county where desired. He said the organization also would finance the farm operations of vocational classes where necessary.

Mass Meeting Urges That Atlanta-Norcross-Buford Road Be Completely Paved and Included in State Road System

BY R. R. CRISLER, Staff Correspondent.

BUFFORD, Ga., June 4.—Inclusion into the state highway system and paving of a 17 1/2 mile stretch of road linking Atlanta via Norcross and Buford directly with the main New York highway were objects of a mass meeting attended by approximately 300 residents of towns in northeastern Georgia here today.

Those attending the meeting were formed into a permanent organization under the chairmanship of Victor Allen, of Buford, with the view of placing their plans for the new road before the state highway board, which was represented by E. N. Parker, assistant highway engineer. Other officers elected were W. Rowe, of Buford, vice chairman, and E. A. Wilbanks, secretary.

Representatives from each town directly or indirectly concerned in the project named as a permanent board of directors for the new organization were as follows: Henry Estes, Gainesville; J. H. Summerour, Duluth; B. F. Summerour, Norcross; Charley Cook, Atlanta; Dr. J. C. Dover, Clayton; L. E. Goble, Clarksville; J. B. McCrary, Chamblee; Forrest Addison, Flowery Branch; Oscar Flor, Demorest; D. E. Anderson, New Holland; Floyd Monday, Doraville; Paul Turner, Lula; W. A. Shorer, Baldwin; Homer Grice, Dillard; J. J. Martin, Alto; Jim Davis, Cleveland; Tom Chandler, Blainville; Jeff Davis, Toccoa, and L. Y. Irwin, Cornelia.

The directors will draw up resolutions for presentation to the highway board, whose chairman, Captain J. W. Barnett, sent a special message of sympathy and accord to the meeting through Mr. Parker.

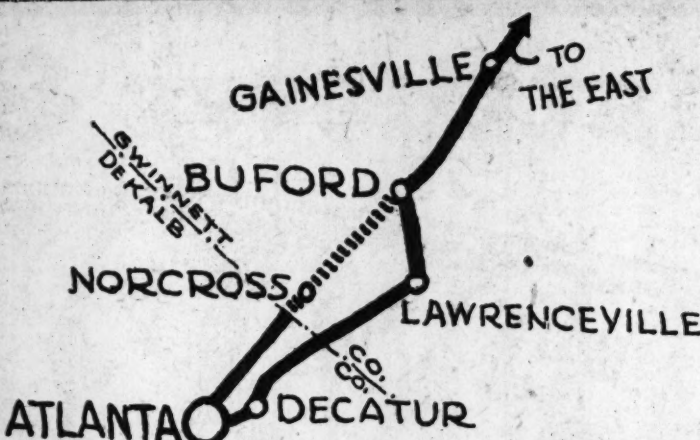

The stretch of road in question directly follows the line of the Southern railway from Norcross to Buford and is shorter by five miles than the present route via Lawrenceville. Dangerous curves and grades on the latter route would be eliminated through traffic by adoption of the Norcross route, it was claimed.

Twenty-two miles from Atlanta to Norcross are already paved. Called to order by W. C. Drake, of Buford, who stated in his preliminary remarks that the road to Norcross had been neglected "to the detriment of both Gwinnett county and Atlanta."

The meeting proceeded with the naming, by acclamation, of W. N. Nunn, superintendent of Buford city schools, as temporary chairman.

Mr. Drake emphasized the dangerously heavy traffic now prevailing on the Lawrenceville road and asserted that the narrowness of the right-of-way and the frequency of curves made this route constantly hazardous to motorists.

S. J. Busha, chairman of the BUFFORD, Ga., June 4.—The group above shows some leaders who attended the mass meeting held here today to ask the state highway department to include the Atlanta-Buford road by way of Norcross in the state road system and to pave, as early as possible, the present unpaved stretch of 17 1/2 miles between Norcross and Buford. In the rear row, left to right, are: J. H. Summerour, Duluth; E. A. Wilbanks, Buford, secretary of the permanent organization which was formed; J. A. McCrary, Decatur; H. H. Estes, Gainesville; W. Rowe, Buford, vice chairman, and B. F. Summerour, of Norcross. Front row, left to right: Mack Pittard, Duluth; Victor Allen, Buford, chairman; Marvin Verner, Suwanee; D. W. Anderson, New Holland; Charles Cook, Atlanta, and A. S. Hardy, Gainesville. Below is a map, showing the proposed new route to the east, which would not only cut five miles from the present route by Decatur and Lawrenceville, but would also do away with many dangerous curves on the present highway.

Gwinnett county board of commissioners, outlined the work of the commission, carried on, he said, since 1924, to induce the highway board to take over the maintenance of the Norcross route. The board had agreed to do this, he stated, when an injunction filed by Richmond county prevented its taking on more obligations till those already on hand were charged. Since then, he said, the matter had been constantly put off, and added that the object of the mass meeting was to precipitate immediate action by the board.

T. L. Harris, also of the Gwinnett county board, stated that his county in anticipation of the Norcross route being taken over by the state board, had spent approximately $100,000 in bridging, sodding and grading the road, thus reducing the ultimate expense to the state of providing it with hard surface.

A petition bearing the signatures of several thousand citizens interested in the destiny of the Norcross route has been drawn up for presentation to the board and "cannot be ignored," Mr. Harris stated.

On behalf of Gainesville, numerous representatives of which city were present, A. S. Hardy, president of Hogansville's Kiwanis Club, prime mover in a number of civic enterprises. Hogansville merchants are co-operating by dressing windows to show desirability of cotton goods and variety of articles made of the staple.

In Hogansville, 57 miles from Atlanta on Route 14, are located the great Stark plant of the United States Rubber Co. and the Calumet plant of the Callaway Mills, Inc.

FUNERAL OF MARIETTA BULLET VICTIM TODAY

Rotary Club To Be Honorary Escort for Doyle P. Butler.

MARIETTA, Ga., June 4.—Doyle Phillips Butler, 42, who was killed Wednesday night by George Goumas, will be buried at Mountain View Park cemetery in this city Friday morning, the funeral to be held at the residence at 1008 Cherokee street with Rev. J. A. Logan, pastor of the Marietta First Methodist church, and Rev. L. A. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, officiating.

The Rotary Club, of which Mr. Butler was president-elect, will act as honorary escorts with the following as pallbearers: R. W. Northcutt, Dr. W. H. Perkins, J. M. Fowler, L. J. Forrester, H. R. Wade and J. E. Massey, all prominent citizens of this city.

Mr. Butler was of a prominent family of this section of the state. He was a member of the First Baptist church, a Mason, a Shriner, of the Yacht club, a Kappa Sigma Lodge No. 35, and was otherwise prominently identified in social and fraternal circles. He was universally loved and respected in the community.

He was a graduate of Marietta High school and the Atlanta College of Pharmacy and was at one time a druggist here. He was in charge of the first Ford agency in Cobb county and has been engaged in the automobile business in this county for the past 15 years.

Until April 6 he was connected with the Anderson Butler Chevrolet Company but at that time took over the management of the Forrester Ford agency sales department.

Besides his wife he is survived by three children, one daughter, Margaret, and two sons, Doyle Jr. and Howard; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Butler, of this city; seven sisters, Mrs. Mary Nottingham, of Macon; Mrs. Orlando Atwell Jr., of Acworth; Mrs. J. R. K. Hasty, of Marietta; Mrs. R. K. Hasty, of Birmingham; Mrs. F. M. Powell, of Atlanta; Miss Marcel Butler, of Jacksonville; Miss Barbara Butler, of Marietta, and three brothers, Ralph E. Butler Jr., of Dallas, Ga.; Carl C. Butler, of Acworth and Dan Butler, of Largo, Fla.

Judge J. H. Hawkins, judge of the superior court of the Blue Ridge circuit, stated Thursday night that he had not decided as to whether a special session of the superior court to try George Goumas would be called before its regular term, when it will convene here the second week in July. He refused to give his opinion concerning local sentiment. Goumas is not popular in Marietta and feeling against him was very high immediately following the shooting although it had quieted Thursday.

Notables To Attend Unveiling Of Colonel Hawkins Monument

ROBERTA, Ga., June 4.—(AP)—An hour after the start of ceremonies at the grave, the memorial erected by the federal government will be unveiled on one of the city's main thoroughfares.

The monument was authorized by the government to commemorate the life and public service of Colonel Hawkins. It is 30 feet in height and is surrounded by a coping of granite.

Home-Coming Day. LINDALE, Ga., June 4.—Homecoming day will be observed at the Lindale Methodist church Sunday. The pastor is the Rev. Charles C. Clift. Dinner will be served on the ground and all out-of-town visitors will be taken care of.

DAYTONA BEACH

SUMMER AGAIN AND THE SEASHORE CALLS!

Pajamas of astonishing brilliance and "volume" float down the breeze in a swirl of perfume, laughter and gaiety. Bathing suits of equal brilliance (lacking "volume" entirely) present a striking contrast against warm, sun-browned skins. Is a fair way to soak up as much as possible of the cool, kindly weather.

A long section of the beach, manned by life guards, where no vehicles are allowed and equipped with swings, patios, drinking fountains, umbrellas and other facilities for making their play safe and pleasant, is set aside as a special playground for children. Everybody is happy—AND COOL.

Living costs are remarkably low. Cottages, apartments and rooms are plentiful and reasonable in price, both on the ocean front and back of it; all are convenient to the beach.

VET OF SPANISH WAR WILL RECEIVE D. S. C.

Savannah Man To Be Honored at Ceremony Monday at Fort Screven.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 4.—(AP)—Junior Parrish, a Savannah veteran of the Spanish War, has been awarded the distinguished service medal by congress, for meritorious conduct at the Battle of Santiago July 1, 1898, and it will be conferred on him with due ceremony at Fort Screven Monday afternoon during the reunion of the Spanish War veterans.

Mr. Parrish, who, as a sergeant in Company A, Tenth U. S. Infantry, took part in the battle, one of the famous engagements of the Spanish War, was awarded a certificate of merit by the government April 19, 1899. The distinguished service medal awarded by congress will take the place of that certificate.

General Frank R. McCoy, U. S. A., commander of the fourth corps area, is expected to come from Atlanta and will personally present the medal. Should he be unable to be present, it will be presented by Colonel Eric C. Wilson, commander of the Spanish War veterans. The presentation will take place in the presence of the garrison of the Spanish War veterans attending the reunion and of the public.

ONE-MAN COMMISSION SOUGHT FOR WEBSTER

PRESTON, Ga., June 4.—By vote of 54 to 16 a group of citizens of Webster county at a meeting held at the courthouse Tuesday voted in favor of a one-man commission and abolition of the present board of five commissioners. A resolution called for the appointment of a committee to draw up a bill abolishing the old plan and establishing the one-man commission form. It is planned to have this bill introduced in the coming session of the state legislature. J. W. Montgomery, member of the house, expressed himself as willing to introduce any bill the majority of the tax payers wanted. D. F. Pierce was chairman of the group who met at the courthouse.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE IN CRASH FATALITY

SUMMERVILLE, Ga., June 4.—Tom Jackson, dead and Gilbert Anderson, in charge with involuntary manslaughter, as a result of a truck wreck near Subigna. Carter Jackson, nephew of Tom Jackson, is held under $300 bond as a material witness.

Officers state that the three men were riding in a light truck, traveling at high speed, with Anderson driving. Just before the truck reached Subigna the driver apparently lost control and it ran into a ditch. Tom Jackson, between 30 and 35, had either jumped or fallen into the ditch, and had been instantly killed.

Anderson was also severely hurt. The younger Jackson was riding in the seat with Anderson, it is said, and Tom Jackson was riding in the rear of the truck.

The body of Jackson was carried to Cutlet, in Walker county, Wednesday for burial.

MEMORIAL TO SCHAUB PLANNED AT LAGRANGE

LAGRANGE, Ga., June 4.—The people of Troup county and LAGRANGE have arranged with J. Don Amazon, sculptor, of Atlanta, formerly of New York, for a life-size bronze memorial to the first World War casualty from Troup county.

The memorial will be in honor of Sergeant Baxter L. Schaub, so not Mrs. J. L. Schaub, who died in line of duty at Camp Wheeler on November 24, 1917. He was in company G, 121st infantry, national guard. He also served with the Marine Corps and was under General Pershing's command on the Mexican border. The memorial will be a likeness of Sergeant Schaub and will be placed in the town square, near the memorial to the Confederate dead.

A statewide American Legion convention is to be held July 1 and 2 at LAGRANGE, at which time the plaster model of the memorial will be temporarily unveiled before being sent to New York for the bronze casting.

To Take Examination.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Robert Conrad Joerg of Columbus, Ga., has been designated by Representative William C. Wright to take an examination on June 25, as first alternate, with a view to admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up in your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, making when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Reject a substitute.

Cut in Jury Pay Asked In Colquitt County

MOULTRIE, Ga., June 4.—(AP)—The board of Colquitt county commissioners has asked the July grand jury to reduce pay for superior court jurors from $3 to $2 a day and cut riding balliffs from $6 a day to $4.

The board also reduced the salaries of tax equalizers from $7 a day to $5.

HUNDRED-ACRE WHEAT FIELD NEAR LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ga., June 4.—One hundred acres of the finest wheat ever grown in Georgia will be the subject of a demonstration near here Friday. Farmers, agricultural agents and many visitors are expected to the farm of Mrs. C. C. Burhalter, two miles from Louisville, when the demonstration is held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The wheat all in one body with a road running through it. Men who have spent their lives farming in Georgia declare it the finest field of wheat they have ever seen. It is just about shoulder high, with heads about five inches long and exceptionally heavy.

The harvesting was begun late Thursday afternoon. The demonstration is to be staged by the Jefferson county agent, who has invited the general public through the columns of the local newspapers and visitors are coming from many miles around.

A Clear Skin and a Strong Body depend upon

NEW STRENGTH in the Blood

YOU will be surprised how much better you will feel... how much more attractive you will be to your friends... after you have added New Strength to your blood—in fact, the whole world will seem rosy!

Rich, red blood plays a dominant role in maintaining health. It builds and sustains... removes impurities from the tissues. When you add New Strength to the blood and bring it back to normal, your whole body is invigorated and strengthened... your mental condition is improved... you are better able to resist infection and disease.

If your vitality is low and you feel weak, don't care to eat, have lost weight, your skin is sallow, pale or broken out with pimples or boils, let S.S.S. purify and enrich your blood.

S.S.S. is composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form. It has a successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood—this New Strength naturally makes for better health and happiness.

If constipated, try KLOX-LAX... it "acts on time."

A clear, smooth skin makes for more attractiveness!

TECH COMMENCEMENT FEATURED BY BRILLIANT DANCES

Junior Prom Inaugurates Series of Social Gayeties

The social program featuring the Georgia Tech commencement was inaugurated last evening with the Junior prom given at Palis Peachtree, the occasion assembling several hundred members of the college set, sub-deb contingent and a group of popular debutantes. Miss Louise Howard, of Wilmington, N. C., formerly of Atlanta, led the junior march with Sid Williams, president of that class. Other officers are: Sharon Williams, vice president, and Ted Raines, treasurer. Colorful decorations for the entire series of dances to be given during the Tech commencement season at Palis Peachtree have been arranged in a novel manner. Twenty-three pillars placed at intervals around the spacious ballroom floor effectively support the blue satin canopy which has been draped softly from the ceiling and each fraternity at Tech has been assigned a pillar which is elaborately decked with the colors of that organization. A large number of these posts are illuminated by brilliantly lighted shields of the fraternities and on Monday evening a prize will be awarded to the fraternity which has presented the most beautiful and striking display.

Senior Ball. Miss Catherine Carroll, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carroll, of Sumter, S. C., will have the unusual honor of leading the senior ball to be held this evening and the grand march at the Pan-Hellenic dance which takes place Monday evening. Miss Carroll's escort on these occasions will be Earl Dunlap, who will lead the senior lead-out at the dance this evening, as president of the senior class, and who will lead the intricate figure which will be the outstanding feature of the final ball Monday evening, as president of the Pan-Hellenic.

These dances are being sponsored by the interfraternity council, of which Earl Dunlap is president; Bill Heron, treasurer, and Fleming Cooper, secretary. Members of the dance committee include: Fleming Cooper, Earl Dunlap and Ed Fain.

Tea Dance. The social program of festivities for today contains a tea-dance to be given this afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock and the senior ball, this evening from 10 to 2 o'clock. In addition to the senior lead-out, a prominent part of the dance will be the tapping of the Ansk Society, which will be in the form of an impressive march by the active members: Ed Haman, Earl Dunlap, Bobby Law, Vance Marce, Ed Heron, Tom Jones, Fleming Cooper and Jim Brooks. All of these members will be attired in caps and gowns and will touch the new members one by one.

The Sophomore-American will take place Saturday evening, when the officers of that class will head the sophomore lead-out with an equal number of popular young ladies. The officers of the sophomore class include: Charles Wagner, president; Roy McArthur, vice president, and Harry Weiler, treasurer. A tea-dance will also be given tomorrow afternoon at the same hours.

Pan-Hellenic Dance. An all-night dance, the Pan-Hellenic, will follow the graduation exercises to be held Monday morning, and will bring to a close the series of dances. At this affair unique costumes will vie with the funny and beautiful costumes of the dancers and the young ladies escorted by members of the interfraternity council will wear white evening gowns, while the members themselves will be garbed in white flannels with white shirts and gold sashes, emphasizing the Tech colors.

Bon Voyage Party. Miss Suzanne Memminger and Miss Frances Morton, who leave soon for Europe, will be honored at a tea to be given by Miss Patsy Thayer at the Piedmont Driving Club Friday, June 12. The guests will include a few close friends.

Hodges-Turner Wedding Is Set For June 17

MARIETTA, Ga., June 4.—Mr. and Mrs. McCormick Davis Hodges have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Stone Hodges, to Charles Dowd Turner, of Charlotte, N. C., which will be solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 17, in the First Methodist church.

Miss Catherine Carroll, of S. C., Will Lead Georgia Tech Dances

Few girls in the history of Georgia Tech commencement dances have had the dual honor of leading both the of the senior class and of the interfraternity council. Miss Carroll, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carroll, is from Sumter, S. C., and while in Atlanta is the guest of Miss Louise Timlin, attractive sub-deb daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Timlin, at her home at 255 The Prado.

Miss Carroll has attended Converse College at Spartanburg, S. C., and is numbered among the most popular belles of her state. Wearing a becoming evening gown of all white, she will be a charming figure leading the artistic figures of the Pan-Hellenic march, for in addition to her exquisite patrician beauty, she possesses a slender, graceful figure and is much sought after as a dancing partner. Participating in the march will be the members of the Pan-Hellenic council and an equal number of popular belles who will form an attractive picture in their diaphanous white dancing frocks.

Promotion Exercises At Moreland School

Promotion exercises of the Moreland sixth grade were held yesterday at 10 o'clock in the school auditorium, which had been most beautifully decorated. A profusion of garden flowers with sweet peas, the class flower, predominating, lent their charm and color.

Eighty girls and boys received their promotion certificates to junior high. Each girl wore a corsage of sweet peas and each boy wore a button-hole bouquet of sweet peas, the gift of their grade chairman.

Citizenship was the theme of the exercises and this was stressed in all of the numbers on the program. The welcome address was given by M. W. Sturdy and the president address was given by Warren Blackmon. Pupils of the class furnished the music, which consisted of piano solos, a violin duet, a guitar solo and a harmonica selection by a group of boys.

The prizes which were won by this class were delivered by Miss Wurn, principal of Moreland. Miss Graves delivered the athletic buttons and Dr. H. H. Bixler delivered the certificates of promotion.

Miss Lewis Honored. Mrs. Lillie D. Caldwell, of 844 Morningstar drive, will entertain at tea at 3 o'clock this afternoon at her home, honoring her piano pupil, Miss Dorothea Lewis, who leaves the first of next week for her home in New York. Miss Lewis has spent the past six months in Atlanta. Invited to meet her are a group of her friends who are also pupils of Mrs. Caldwell.

SALE--Today and Saturday

McCormick-Young Wedding Will Be Solemnized June 13

Miss Dorothy Lucine McCormick has chosen Saturday, June 13, as the date for her marriage to Charles V. Young, of Atlanta, formerly of Cartersville, Ga. The ceremony will be solemnized at 5 o'clock at the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Wade W. Boggs, pastor of the church, reading the marriage service in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

Miss McCormick's attendants will include Miss Catherine Ansel, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Miss Mary Louise Harvey, of Atlanta, both of whom are Chi Omegas and members of the same chapter of the fraternity at the University of Chattanooga.

The bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father, G. W. McCormick. Mr. Young will have as his best man Bruce Lunderbach, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Miles Gilreath, Sims Munford and George Munford, all of Cartersville, will act as ushers. No reception will be held following the ceremony, but after Mr. Young and his bride return from their wedding journey, which will include fashionable resorts on the Florida coast, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McCormick, parents of the bride-to-be, will entertain at a brilliant reception at their home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Miss McCormick will be entertained at a number of pre-nuptial parties planned in her honor, among which will be the bride-to-be to be given by Mrs. Earl Sanders Wednesday, June 10, at her home on Frederica street.

Following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening, June 12, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick will honor their daughter and her fiancé at a buffet supper at their home, the guests to include members of the bridal party.

Miss Crusselle Weds Joseph Regenstein Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crusselle, of Atlanta, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Joseph Regenstein Jr., also of this city. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 3, by Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Regenstein were both reared and educated in Atlanta, and will continue to make this city their home, where Mr. Regenstein is associated in business.

Children's Classes At High Museum

An attractive feature of the summer program at the High Museum is the special art course that has been arranged for the children of members. Innovations in this course will be an illustrated story hour and advanced design problems which will be applied to various objects.

The classes, which start Monday, June 8, and continue through July 17, will be held three mornings a week from 9 to 11 o'clock. As only a limited number of students can be taken, early registration is urged. Those desiring to become members of the Atlanta Art Association and High Museum of Art, in order that their children may avail themselves of this splendid opportunity, can have definite information regarding membership and the classes by calling the High Museum of Art, Hemlock 2173.

ALIEN DEPARTURES EXCEED ARRIVALS

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—The labor department announced today that more than twice as many aliens left the United States during April as were admitted to this country as immigrants.

Departures totaled 7,544, of which 1,897 were deportations. Immigrants totaled 3,470 or less than one-sixth of the number admitted during April, 1930.

TALKING IT OVER BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: I have been a busy man all my life and have made some money. I have recently lost most of it. What I want is a home and happiness. It cannot be found chasing money. I have no experience with women. I don't know how to approach them. I can talk to a man in a trade, but when I approach a woman I am tongue-tied. I dress well and I like to see a woman dress well. I even like to see her "make up," a little paint and powder helps a lot. What do the women like? I am looking for a big-hearted woman. I have never had a sweetheart, nor do I know how to go about getting one. Being only 45, I believe there is yet time. G. S. W.

ANSWER: The most flattering tribute a man can pay a woman is to offer her a sincere friendship and companionship. I heard a woman say once yesterday that she liked a certain man because he treated her and talked to her as if she were another man. By that she meant he thought her capable of conversing with him about the things that interested him, he thought her opinions were worth having and consequently he took pains to get them. Some men have the idea that to win a woman's favor they must always be telling her how pretty she is, how fascinating she is and how alluring. It is a fatal mistake. Any sensible woman would rather have sensible conversation from a man than any amount of empty compliment.

There is no attribute about which a woman will boast longer or longer than about thoughtfulness in the man she loves. She counts it proof of his affection and of his fine texture. The best way to win a woman's friendship is by thoughtfulness of the little things. A box of candy will cover a multitude of sins, a bunch of flowers will speak more eloquently than a silver-tongued orator can speak. It will speak of the things that a woman loves. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Who has no more than meets his eyes? Is not to be accused of being a cocky Road Runner.

Having had a race with Cocky the Road Runner and so had a fairly good look at him. I will have to go looking for him. So early the following morning he was back at the place where he had seen Cocky. To his great disappointment Cocky did not come out for another race.

"Well, if he won't come out to see me, I will have to go looking for him. I suspect that he has a nest somewhere near here and I would give much to find it."

So Farmer Brown's Boy began to wander about among the clumps of cholla and thorny acacia, peering into them and under them in the hope of finding a nest. He moved slowly, so as not to frighten any birds who might be near. For some time he saw nothing save occasionally a startled Lizard who dashed away. He was just about ready to give up when he saw a bird sitting on a cactus, which was not part of the plant, yet which he could not at first make out at all.

Now Farmer Brown's Boy was far too wise to walk directly toward that cactus, for he knew that that would be the surest way of alarming whoever might be hiding there. So he began to slowly walk in a circle around the cactus, all the time drawing nearer and nearer to it. At last he was near enough to see better and what he saw was a bird standing perfectly still intently watching him, but such a bird! It had two tails, one at each end, and while one tail pointed almost straight up and was held stiffly, the other hung limply.

Now, of course, Farmer Brown's Boy knew that there couldn't, there simply couldn't be a bird with a tail at each end, and he was greatly puzzled. He could not yet see clearly, so he kept on slowly circling around that cactus, all the time drawing nearer. This time around brought him near enough to see clearly and what he saw surprised him almost as much as what he had thought he had seen. It was Cocky the Road Runner himself, and he did have two tails. Yes, sir, he did have two tails, and both were long. However, one of them had no feathers and wasn't a part of Cocky, although it soon would be. It was the long, slim tail of Lizard hanging from Cocky's bill. The rest of the Lizard he had swallowed or, at least, partly swallowed, but the long tail still hung from his bill. There wasn't yet room for that.

It was such a funny sight that Farmer Brown's Boy laughed right out. At the sound Cocky suddenly came to life. His own long tail lowered and he darted out from under the clump like a brown streak, the tail of the Lizard dragging on the ground. One more glimpse of him Farmer Brown's Boy got as he darted to another cholla clump and then disappeared.

KENTUCKIAN KILLS WIFE MOTHER-IN-LAW, SELF Found Dead!

ASHLAND, Ky., June 4.—(AP)—Police today quoted two children, Dorothy Ann Bays, 8, and Lillian Ray Bays, 6, as saying their father shot and killed their mother and grandmother and then committed suicide because Mrs. Bays moved to her mother's home.

Police said Bays, 40, a garage employee, had quarreled with his wife and when he returned home last night he found her and the two children absent. He then went to the home of Ben Strother, Mrs. Bays' mother.

When Mrs. Bays answered a knock, the police said they were told, Bays fired two charges from an automatic shot gun, killing his wife almost instantly. Mrs. Strother, hearing the shots, ran into the front hallway and Bays fired at her, police said. She fled and Bays followed and killed her with a second shot, the police reported.

The children were quoted as saying Bays caught them as they fled, assured them he would not harm them and after kissing them went to the front porch where he fired two charges into his head.

TALKING IT OVER BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: I have been a busy man all my life and have made some money. I have recently lost most of it. What I want is a home and happiness. It cannot be found chasing money. I have no experience with women. I don't know how to approach them. I can talk to a man in a trade, but when I approach a woman I am tongue-tied. I dress well and I like to see a woman dress well. I even like to see her "make up," a little paint and powder helps a lot. What do the women like? I am looking for a big-hearted woman. I have never had a sweetheart, nor do I know how to go about getting one. Being only 45, I believe there is yet time. G. S. W.

ANSWER: The most flattering tribute a man can pay a woman is to offer her a sincere friendship and companionship. I heard a woman say once yesterday that she liked a certain man because he treated her and talked to her as if she were another man. By that she meant he thought her capable of conversing with him about the things that interested him, he thought her opinions were worth having and consequently he took pains to get them. Some men have the idea that to win a woman's favor they must always be telling her how pretty she is, how fascinating she is and how alluring. It is a fatal mistake. Any sensible woman would rather have sensible conversation from a man than any amount of empty compliment.

There is no attribute about which a woman will boast longer or longer than about thoughtfulness in the man she loves. She counts it proof of his affection and of his fine texture. The best way to win a woman's friendship is by thoughtfulness of the little things. A box of candy will cover a multitude of sins, a bunch of flowers will speak more eloquently than a silver-tongued orator can speak. It will speak of the things that a woman loves. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

GUNN CARDS 77 TO LEAD FIELD IN GOLF MEET

Former Atlanta Star Paces Elmer Mitchell Memorial Tourney.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 4.—(AP) Watts Gunn, of the Oakmont Club, Pittsburgh, carded a net 77, six strokes over par, to lead a field of 170 golfers in the 18-hole qualifying rounds of the annual Elmer Mitchell Memorial men's annual invitation tournament at the Wilmington Country Club today.

Scores were high over the tricky course. Five players, W. B. Denham, Wilmington Country Club; C. W. Baker Jr., Wilmington Country Club; A. B. Cartledge, University of Pennsylvania; H. R. Chandler, Concord Country Club and Richard Dunn, Lansdowne Country Club, were tied for second place with 80. A. M. Porter and F. E. Gendron, Wilmington Country Club; J. C. Guevour, Du Pont Country Club; F. S. Wilcox Jr., Wilmington Country Club; J. C. Duke, Concord Country Club, were grouped in third place with cards of 81.

Match play will start tomorrow with morning and afternoon rounds. The semi-finals and finals are scheduled for Saturday.

YOUTHFUL PAIR TO SAIL TODAY TO JOIN MATES

Sutter Not Named Spare. Team To Play at Wimbledon.

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—Frank X. Shields and Sidney B. Wood, New York youngsters who eliminated Canada and Argentina in the American zone play, sail tomorrow night for Europe to join George M. Lott and John Van Ryn, Philadelphia pair, in an effort to wrest the Davis cup from France.

Selection of the team was announced today by the United States Lawn Tennis Association after a meeting with the international play committee. The committee's decision not to send Clifford Sutter, young New Orleans star, as a spare on the squad came as a surprise. Sutter won the only singles match he played against Argentina last week.

The team selected is one of the youngest to represent the United States in recent years. Lott and Van Ryn, although veterans of Davis Cup play, are only 25 years old. Shields is 20 and Wood is only 19. Shields was runner-up to Johnny Doeg for the national singles championship last year.

Lott and Van Ryn, who teamed up to win the French hard courts doubles title last week but were beaten in singles, will play international team matches against Austria and Germany before joining Wood and Shields at London the week of June 15. There the team, under the guidance of Samuel P. Hardy, non-playing captain, will practice before competing in the English championships at Wimbledon from June 22 to July 4. The squad then will proceed to Paris, to meet the winner of the European zone for the right to face France in the challenge round.

Watson M. Washburn and Samuel P. Hardy were named as United States delegates to the meeting of the Davis Cup nations at London June 30. The conference, among other things, will consider a proposal by South Africa that the Davis Cup be competed for biennially instead of annually.

Czechs Advance To Semi-Finals

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 4.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia today eliminated Italy in the fourth round of the European zone of Davis cup play, three matches to none, and will meet Denmark in the semi-finals of the lower bracket.

Japan Eliminates Egyptian Team.

PARIS, June 4.—(AP)—Japan today eliminated Egypt in the quarter-final round of the European meet. Davis cup play and will meet the winner of the Great Britain-South Africa series in the semi-final round.

Japan scored four times to Egypt's lone victory, that by default.

BROOKS WINS.

CONCORD, Ga., June 4.—Brooks defeated Concord, 12 to 6, here yesterday afternoon. Miller's home run with two on base in the fourth inning was the feature of the game.

THE SPORTLIGHT

More Modern Mother Goose. There was an old lady who lived in a shoe— Now what do you know about that? If the shoe was Carnera's this dame would have had More room than a house or a flat.

Hickory, dickory—dock— The boys have forgotten to sock; They can wrestle and dance If you call THAT romance, So—hickory-dickory—dock.

There was a dub in our club and he was wondrous wise; He sliced into a bramble bush, amid the worst of lies. And when he saw what he had done, with all his might and main, He simply took his No. 10—and kicked it out again.

The National Trade Mark.

LET'S GET this thing straightened out concerning the nationality of the warring golfers at Carnoustie. We are told that the American forces include Mac Smith, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell, Joe Kirkwood and others. As citizens we will say they are all good Americans. They very likely are. But Mac Smith was born in Carnoustie, learned his golf there, and came to this country as a fine young performer, with all the heritage and tradition of Scottish training to back him up.

What about Tommy Armour? He started his golf in north Scotland, was the amateur champion of his country—studied and worked under such masters as Harry Vardon and George Duncan—where he was playing consistently in the low 70's before he ever landed here. What about Joe Kirkwood? He was Australian champion before he ever started for America, then the land of gold and glory.

The sudden change in Hack Wilson from 1930 to 1931 has already been commented upon. No one can tell what a day or a week will bring forth in this national frolic unless the guessing happens to involve the Athletics. Then it isn't much of a guess—so far.

The Killing Finish.

This championship at Carnoustie is likely to be decided on the five finishing holes—length, 473-424-235-428-453—where the par is 5-4-3-4-5. Any of the leaders who can put on a fast pace through this test will need a lot of golf and his full share of golfing courage. No matter what the score, it's the stretch that tells the story.

The Thirty Mark.

It has been a long, long time since any big league pitcher turned out 30 or more victories. One has to go back to the days of Mathewson, Walsh, Johnson, Wood and Alexander. Off-hand it is hard to recall a 30-game winner in the last dozen years.

There is a great chance now that the tall and sinewy left-hander by the name of Robert Moses Grove will at least make it close. Grove has already won nine games. He will have to do a lot more pitching with Connie Mack's limited staff and he has a lot of stuff to shove at the enemy.

Matty and Alexander each won more than 30 games three times. But that was back in a different baseball age. Now 20 victories mean a big year and 25 is up in the 1-2 class.

The Zigzagers.

Those Cleveland Indians continue to keep baseball's extensive following completely baffled. They have been far harder to dope than even the irrepressible Dodgers, who have given and 3 in the teeth of the wind were great holes. I think Cotton is very nearly going to win this championship if his intense concentration and self-repression do not kill him.

AMERICANS FIGHT.

Three big Americans, Farrell, Sarazen and Mac Smith, had a hard time of it in the worst of the wind. Farrell seemed on the brink of calamity with 40 out, due to one bad 7, and all the hardest work yet to come. In the circumstances his 37 hole was a fine brave effort. Sarazen had one better, 76, which ended dramatically with 3-3-6. His 6 was due to a cut drive into the burn, which is an ubiquitous serpent at the last hole and can catch you in about four places. Mac Smith played steadily enough for a 77, but he is dropping too far behind, and a very big spurt is due from him now.

Here, finally, are the leading scores: Cotton and Jurado, 147; Armour, 148; Farrell, 149; Sarazen, Kirkwood and Twine, 150; Willie Hunter, Abe Mitchell, Dallemagne, Rodgers and Churio, 151; Alliss and Mac Smith, 152; Compton, 153 and Horton Smith, far behind, with 156.

Redmond will help him prove anything more.

On Carnera's arrival one of his backers suggested the crowd would pay $5 just to see him eat peanuts. But that delicious feeling on the part of the crowd has about worn off.

The courts have tied him up from any real test and he won't be worth a nickel to the Garden in any September show unless he gets a real test first.

Another Starter.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, one of the best of all the United States women golfers, makes her lone stand against the field of British women at Portmarnock, Ireland. The first fireworks will be set off Saturday in the opening qualifying round, the first switch to the American system ever tried abroad.

Miss Orcutt has a high-class field to face where the odds are heavily against her. But she is a fine competitor and Irish turf will give her future inspiration.

National Track Records Are Slated To Fall in Events Today

Trojans Favored To Retain Crown

Field of 334 Picked Athletes Will Compete in Prelims This Afternoon.

By George Kirksey,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, June 4.—(UP)—With Southern California certain to retain the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field championship, interest in the meet at Stagg field Friday and Saturday is centered in the individual events in which at least half a dozen meet records are likely to be surpassed.

If the Southern California athletes perform up to standard the Trojans may set a new high point total, eclipsing the present high score of 72 points made by Stanford in 1928.

Three hundred and thirty-four picked stars from 75 colleges and universities are entered in the meet which has been held every year since 1921, with the exception of 1924.

TRIALS TODAY.
Trials will be held tomorrow beginning at 3 p. m. (C. S. T.) in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes, 880-yard run, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, broad jump, discus, shot put, javelin throw and hammer throw.

Examinations which caused the Stanford team to withdraw all its entries except one made certain that Southern California will have little difficulty in repeating last year's triumph.

Illinois, considered a contender, lost considerable strength today when Lee Sentman, star hurdler, withdrew from the meet because of impending examinations. Sentman tied the world's record of 14.4 in winning the high hurdles in the Big Ten meet and was the defending champion in the low hurdles.

The battle for runner-up honors seems to be between Wisconsin, Big scattered save in the sixth, when Gehrig's homer produced two runs, and in the eighth when he was touched for three hits and as many runs. Meanwhile the Cubs got to Ruffing and Wells for seven runs in four innings and added a tally off Johnson in the ninth.

The Cardinals increased their National league leadership to 21-2 games by defeating the New York Giants, 6 to 5. Meanwhile the Chicago Cubs trounced Brooklyn, 6 to 4 and moved up to within one game of the Giants. In the other National league contests, Pittsburgh nosed out Boston, 2 to 1, in 13 innings and Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia, 5 to 2.

GIANTS NOSED OUT.
New York came from behind to tie the score against St. Louis with two runs in the eighth, thanks to Adams' double, Blad's sacrifice, a pass to Frisch and a single by Pinch-Hitter Martin gave the Cards a pinning victory.

The Cubs also won out in the ninth. Kiki Cuyler's home run with Grimm on base providing the winning margin. Clyde Day, who had beaten the Cubs twice this season, allowed 11 hits, including homers by Wilson and Cuyler, and was in trouble constantly despite an early three-run lead.

Pittsburgh, after being held to two hits in the first eight innings, rallied to tie the score against Boston at one in the ninth and went on to win in the thirteenth on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and Regan's single. Moss, Boston's starting pitcher, weakened in the ninth and a walk and a hit off Relief Pitcher Cantwell gave Pittsburgh a tie. Hild finished the game and was charged with the defeat.

French labored the first eight innings for Pittsburgh, allowing seven hits and was removed for a pinch hitter, with Spencer finishing and getting credit for the victory.

PELS 9; CHICKS 7.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—After taking a six-run lead in the first five innings, Walter Beck weakened badly and the Memphis Chickadees were beaten, 9 to 7. The Pelicans pounded Beck for four runs in the last half of the fifth and continued their attack on him in the sixth, when four more runners crossed the plate. Kit May made his season's debut as a relief pitcher for the Chickadees in the Pelican rally in the sixth but could not stop the locals.

Ben Eastman, Trojan Sophomore, Flashes

Young "Natural" Threatens To Set New World's Quarter and Half-Mile Records.

By Robert Edgren.

I have followed track athletes, in competition and as a spectator, for a good many years, and have seen a lot of champions and record-breakers come and go.

In all the lot I never saw a man who could compare with this 19-year-old Stanford University sophomore, "Big Ben" Eastman.

One of the most remarkable things about Eastman is the ease with which he has been accumulating world's records in his first year of college competition.

Eastman isn't a veteran track athlete, who gained fame, like Frankie Wykoff and many more, before entering college. As a freshman he came out and galloped around the track under Coach Templeton's eyes, as green a young runner as you could imagine. He knew nothing about what pace six feet and an inch tall and weighs 154 pounds, and he has the build of a runner, but not a runner's build developed by long training. He took up running because he had to do something in athletics, and he thought running would be the easiest.

As a freshman, Eastman won his first quarter-mile race in 49.8 seconds. His time, in the interclass meet he was boxed by the varsity veterans, Morrison and Hables, couldn't get clear, and ran a close third to 45.6 seconds. His long, easy natural stride, that didn't look fast, carried him over the ground at a deceiving rate of speed, and apparently he had more speed on top, if he knew how to use it. Templeton took him in hand. In a freshman meet with a high school team Eastman jumped to the lead at the start and won the quarter in 48.2 seconds. This was a shock. No freshman has any business running like that. They began to talk about Eastman and wonder what he'd do next.

KEEPS ON.
But after this astonishing start he didn't stop. He began making his own pace in race after race. Rich off the mark at top speed, into the lead, never to be headed. He has been running that way ever since.

This year he started by beating the veterans in the interclass quarter mile, in 48.4 seconds.

Here Templeton began to figure that Eastman, with his long, easy, natural stride, running straight as a string, putting his feet down straight ahead stride by stride, so that he could run his race on a chalk line if he wanted to, looked a lot like a half miler. He had the boy run a couple of practice half miles. They were under 2 minutes. His third practice half was against teammates well handicapped. Eastman won in 2 minutes 52.6 seconds.

COMING CLOSE.
Figure that out. The third half mile trial he had run in his life—within one second of Dr. Otto Peltzer's world's record, which is 2 minutes 51.6 seconds. Within two-fifths of a second of Ted Meredith's American record that has stood unbeaten since 1916.

Then Templeton tried Eastman out for endurance, as he had shown no lack of endurance in his few races. A college athlete who has great ability, and with it the strength to run in two or three events and win a lot of points, is a prize. In the Stanford-California meet Big Ben was sent out to win the quarter mile, the half mile and run in the one-mile relay. Not to try out his speed—just to win points. He won the quarter in 48.3, the half in 1 minute 56.7 seconds, and ran his lap in the relay in 49. And he was even tired.

Next week he was sent to try the half mile in the Coast Championships. He hadn't learned enough about pace in the longer distance yet and the experience would be valuable. It was a rainy day. The track was soggy and slow.

THROUGH MUD.
Eastman, with no idea of breaking even a local record, hopped right out into the lead and sprinted as if he had nothing on his mind and he got somewhere. He was 75 yards ahead of all competition at the quarter-mile, which he had run in the mud in 52.1 seconds.

He slowed up in the next quarter, still with the idea that any record-breaking in such track conditions was impossible, and finished only 50 yards ahead of the next runner. And the time, in spite of mud, was 1 minute, 53 seconds.

That was two-fifths of a second better than Charlie Kilpatrick's famous world's half-mile record that lasted 15 years. It was faster than our old friend Mel Sheppard ran, and I have very vivid recollections of Mel when he was the world's best and beating them all. What a runner Mel was, as a veteran star. But not as good as this novice.

OIL, WELL!
After the race Eastman said: "Guess I ran my first quarter too fast because I didn't know pace. I make a mistake. Maybe I'll know more about it next time."

After that came the meet with the U. S. C. Trojans. Templeton had Eastman run a half mile and then himself for the mile relay. He won his half, looping along, in 1 minute 54.2 seconds, and ran his final lap in the relay in 47.4 to give his team a new world's collegiate record of 3 minutes. A few days later, in the Fresno relay Eastman ran his final lap in the mile relay in 47.2 seconds, and his team established a new world's relay record of 3 minutes 12.6 seconds, breaking the mark made by the American Olympic games stars of 1928, anchored by the famous Ray Barbati. And the Saturday after that Eastman beat Vic Williams, national quarter-mile champion, by two yards to equal Meredith's world's record. Williams incidentally turned the tables in the same great time at Philadelphia.

His more recent performances are news of the day. Dink Templeton, who had a lot more to say about Eastman's running than Eastman talks ever says himself—for Eastman talks of nothing but his "mistakes"—says that the Stanford youngster, with two more years of college competition, will run the quarter well under 47 flat and the half-mile in 1:50 or better. If he does—well, he'll make the great old timers look like truck horses. And he may at that.

Athletics, Tigers Argue Over Games
PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers are at odds over the playing of a postponed game here next Saturday. The Philadelphia management has notified President Harbridge, of the American league, not to schedule the Athletics for any special trips to Detroit next year.

When last Monday's game was postponed on account of rain, the Athletics announced it would be played as a part of a double-header next Saturday.

Detroit is said to have objected because its team is crippled and because it does not have to play off postponed games on the first road trip. Therefore only one game will be played Saturday. The teams make a special trip to Detroit on Sunday for a scheduled game.

MRS. WILLIAMSON TOURNEY WINNER

Scores 83 To Take Honors in Meet at West End Club.

By Robert Edgren.

Mrs. C. E. Williamson, Mrs. Roy Dougan and Mrs. W. R. Pollard were winners Thursday morning in a one-day handicap flag tournament on the West End course. The affair was sponsored by the Atlanta Women's Golf Association and drew one of the largest entries of any tournament this year.

Mrs. Williamson won the Class A prize with a net of 83, while Mrs. Dougan won Class B honors with a net of 86. Mrs. Pollard topped the Class C list with a net of 100.

Mrs. Carlie Fraser, with a 91, won second honors in Class A, with Mrs. Guy Butler second in Class B and Mrs. Jimmy Burns second in Class C.

Mrs. J. C. Wright, chairman of the tournament committee; Mrs. Albert Jones, West End representative, and Albert Jones, club professional, were in charge of the tourney.

Farrell Is Ordered To Consult Dentist

BOSTON, June 4.—(AP)—Wesley Farrell, pitching ace of the Cleveland Indians, has given up struggling along with a right shoulder that has been sore since his no-hit performance of April 29.

Farrell, who has been battered freely since his history-making game, finally admitted that his shoulder is painfully sore. Manager Roger Peckinpaugh prescribed a trip to the dentist today, and is that fails, treatment by a specialist in baseball arms and shoulders.

TWENTY GRAND IN BRISK DRILL

Contender for Belmont Stakes Does Mile and Quarter in 1:05

By Robert Edgren.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Payne Whitney's Twenty Grand, winner of the Kentucky Derby and outstanding contender for the Belmont Stakes, June 13, was given a swift workout at Belmont Park today.

The son of St. German-Bonus, was sent a mile and a quarter in the fast time of 2:05, and pulled up fighting for his head. He went the first half mile in 48.4 seconds, was at the six-furlong pole in 1:13, and was clocked in 1:38.4-5 for the mile.

Tech High Seeks Second Victory in State Series This Afternoon

SMITHIES SET FOR INVASION OF COLUMBUS

Tech High Nine Meets Industrial in Big Game Today.

Tech. High will make a determined effort to win the Georgia prep baseball crown in Columbus, Ga., this afternoon when it meets Columbus Industrial High school in the second of the state championship series.

The Smithies won one leg on the title with a 7-to-3 victory Tuesday night at Spiller field.

Coach Tolbert and his Big Four title winners will leave the city at 7 o'clock this morning in special cars in order that they may have several hours of rest before the game.

The entire team, headed by Coach Tolbert and the student managers, will make the trip.

Although no definite announcement has been made, it is likely that Johnny Mable, a veteran on the Smithie mound staff, will face Columbus this afternoon. Mable was slated to hurl Tuesday's game but Ed Copeland was chosen instead and pitched one of his best games.

The remainder of the Tech High lineup will be the same as that of Tuesday night, with Captain Marvin Boyd behind the plate, Hoot Gibson at first base, Cape at second, Scott at short, Morris at third and Leary.

The Columbus lineup is expected to be the same as that which faced the Smithies Tuesday night. No pitching choice has been made yet.

Louchheim Horses Win Three Races

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—J. H. Louchheim's silks shone more brilliantly than ever today as three horses from the Philadelphia stable scored at Belmont Park. Frankie Catrone was up on two of today's winners, while George Rose had the mount on the other.

Try Some, a maiden 2-year-old, son of Crystalline, Louchheim-Buxton triumphs and Gray Coat, the colt that beat Blue Larkspur in the Dwyer stakes two years ago, completed the triple. In between, Louchheim captured the bouquet, purse and $5,525 for his third consecutive juvenile victory. Uncovered was lost by the claiming route, however, going to H. H. (Pete) Bostwick for $7,000.

The bouquet furnished one of the prettiest blanket finishes seen in many a day, six horses rearing the wire heads apart. Second money went to J. J. Robinson's Renaissance, while Mrs. L. B. Harris' Cambal was third.

George Rose was the 135-1 favorite and covered the 4 1/2 furlongs in 53 2/5 seconds.

Clipping two-fifths of second off the track record, C. M. Whitney's 5-year-old campaigner, Bargello, stepped the mile in 1:37 to win the Riverside purse by six lengths over W. H. Whitehouse's Overlay at Washington Park.

George Collins' consistent mare, Thistle Fern, ran third, with Royal Ruffin fourth and last. The Whitney colt paid $4.70 for $2 in the mutuels.

TECH RECEPTION THIS AFTERNOON

The annual senior reception for the graduating class of the Georgia School of Technology will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Brittain.

The hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Brittain and Mrs. W. V. Skiles. Assisting Mrs. Brittain will be Miss Josephine Crawford, Miss Marjorie Beilfuss, Miss Letitia Rockmore, Miss La Trelle Robertson, Miss Frances Spaulding, Miss Louisa Howard, Miss Catherine Carroll and Miss Jane McMillan.

The school colors of white and gold will be carried out by daisies. The escorts of the young ladies are Earl Dunlap, Holly Sphar, Fred Stephenson, Fleming Cooper, Hudson Edwards, W. Van Brown, Sydney Williams and Tom Jones.

COTTON ADVANCES FOR YEAR DELAYED

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—(AP)—Directors of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, after the first day of their two-day session here tonight, announced that the percentage of advances to be made on the 1931-32 cotton crop would be fixed after more definite estimates are available on the size of the crop.

Of the 1929-30 cotton crop, the association made a flat advance of 16 cents a pound regardless of market price, and on the 1930-31 crop until the closing of all pools on April 30 advances were made on the basis of 90 per cent of the market value at the time of the loan.

EMORY TO OPEN EXERCISES TODAY

The official opening of the 91st commencement of Emory University will be held at 9 o'clock this morning with a meeting of the board of trustees in the theology building.

Charles Howard Candler, president, George R. Gibbons, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the Aluminum Company of America, who was recently elected to the board, will take his place this morning for the first time.

The commencement sermon will be delivered at 11 o'clock Sunday by Dr. Humphrey Lee, of Dallas, Texas, in the university auditorium, which has been rebuilt since the recent fire. The exercises will be concluded Tuesday following the baccalaureate address by Dr. John H. Finley, editor of The New York Times.

MACDONALD PARTY OPPOSES DOLE CUT

LONDON, June 4.—(AP)—A recommendation for a reduction of the British unemployment "dole" was proving a source of trouble tonight for Prime Minister MacDonald's labor government.

The recommendation was made in a majority report of the royal commission on unemployment insurance today. It advocated a reduction of the weekly payment dole payment and other drastic changes in the system.

The independent labor party group, forming the left wing of Prime Minister MacDonald's labor party, decided "to oppose strenuously any attempt" to give the recommendation legislative sanction.

The Awakening.

The most startling development of the current baseball season is the sudden realization by the Brooklyn Dodgers that the baseball season of 1931 really has started. I believe that their manager and many of the customers at Ebbets field tried to tell the boys this over a month ago, but players of the type of Babe Herman and Bissonette have a certain amount of incredulity in their make-ups. They are not impetuous, either physically or mentally.

When they were tossing away a few baseball games in the exhibition season and were chided by their manager they informed him that the baseball season had not started yet, implying that when the real season was on they would stage an exhibition of speed in thought and action that would be the sensation of our national pastime.

Several weeks ago Mr. Robinson, addressing his men, said, "Well, the season has started." But evidently the boys thought that their manager merely was spoofing them. They felt that he would have his little joke.

In vain did Mr. Robinson show them the calendar and point out pictures in the papers to them of the first baseball being pitched into the field by the properly constituted authorities. He showed them the standing of the clubs and rung the name of Brooklyn to indicate that it was very far down in the second division. But it was of no use. The boys would not believe that the season had started.

At last some trusted friends of Babe Herman, Bissonette and the other boys must have told them that the season really was on, for suddenly the Dodgers awakened from their long lethargy, and at the expense of the New York Giants.

There is no doubt that the boys will remain awake for the duration of the season and the Mr. Robinson's annual prediction that "the Brooklyn club will be up there or thereabouts at the end of the season" will be realized.

It is a long time to waken them, but the job seems to have been done thoroughly. The chances are that they will remain awake for the duration of the season and the Mr. Robinson's annual prediction that "the Brooklyn club will be up there or thereabouts at the end of the season" will be realized.

Some attribute the awakening of the Dodgers to a "pep" meeting which was called by Frank York, president of the Brooklyn baseball club, at Ebbets field. In the meeting, Mr. York, who is a lawyer, summed up the case against the Dodgers with great eloquence.

Then Steve McKeever, half owner of the team, who used to be a fish dealer, looked with fishy eye at Wilbert Robinson, the manager, and recited some excerpts from the speech of Robert Emmet in the dock. He intimated that the English had hanged, drawn and quartered the wrong man and that all of those things should have been done to the manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Afterward Mr. McKeever became more magnanimous and intimated that if Mr. Robinson would submit to being hanged he would not insist upon him being drawn and quartered afterward.

Orlores and Robins.

Mr. Dutch Carter, of Yale, the Brooklyn club director who was appointed by the National league and the League of Nations to keep peace in the happy family that is the Brooklyn club directorate, then gave the boys a dressing room talk such as Yale teams get between the halves. He exhorted them to go out there and die for the old Steve McKeever and then sang "Boys" and "Bulldog, Bulldog, Wow, Wow, Wow."

Mr. Wilbert Robinson rose to address the meeting. He had prepared a stirring oration, pointing to the noble example of the old Orlores of more or less sainted baseball memory. He was going to tell the boys how Joe Kelley, the outfielder, lost a finger spearing one off the fence and did not know the finger was missing until he returned home after the game. Then, when he found out of the digits shy, he felt that it was unusual and went back to the baseball park and found it near the fence.

He was about to recount how Kid Gleason saved the game at a time when he was in a batting slump. The Kid was up in a pinch with a man on third. He realized he was not hitting them with his bat. The score was tied. The count was three and two. The opposing pitcher shot one over. The Kid would not trust his bat. Instead, he moved over across the plate and let the ball strike him full on the forehead. The impact was so hard that the ball shot down between second and short. The runner scored, and the Kid took two bases on the hit.

But the minute Mr. Robinson started to mention the Old Orlores one of the Brooklyn players who has been hitting said, with some sarcasm, "I suppose you are going to tell us that the Old Orlores would do better."

"The Old Orlores," said Mr. Robinson pointedly, "never backed away from slow ones. They stepped into them." The rest was silence.

"The People of England."

There was some talk a few days ago concerning a petition to have Mr.

Wilbert Robinson removed as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The petition was said to have 25,000 signatures. It never arrived at the club office but an investigation was started. This showed that there were two names signed to the petition, each of them being signed 12,500 times.

The investigator said that one of the names was Steve McKeever. He also pointed out that even if the petition was presented at the Brooklyn club's offices it would be invalidated automatically, because the name of Mr. McKeever was misspelled many times. It is well known that Mr. McKeever knows how to spell his name, consequently it is believed that the signatures purported to be his are forgeries. The other name on the petition was written with a rubber stamp, which makes it ineffective.

The petition seems to be of the same nature as the one gotten up by the Tailors of Tooty street, which began with the statement, "We, the people of England—I presume that the two gentlemen who are supposed to have signed the baseball petition started theirs with, 'We, the people of Brooklyn.'"

At any rate the petition has not been considered, because it has not been presented. Probably it will not be presented, because the Brooklyn Dodgers have become convinced that the baseball season of 1931 really has started.

DUBLINSKY WINNER.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 4.—(AP) Harry Dublinsky, Chicago, jobbed his way to a judges' decision over Mickey Cohen, Denver, in a ten-round bout tonight. The weights were: Dublinsky, 135 pounds; Cohen, 135 1/2.

Georgian To Enter National Trapshoot

VANDALIA, Ohio, June 3.—W. H. Lanier, of Augusta, is the new singles trapshooting champion of Georgia and as such will represent the state in the battle for state champions at the grand American handicap tournament here August 24 to 26, according to John Brandt, manager of the Amateur Trapshooting Association, governing body of registered target shooting. Lanier also won the all-around Georgia title with 250 out of 400 targets.

The recent state championship tournament attracted one of the largest entry lists in the history of trapshooting. Harold McKenzie, of Atlanta, annexed the doubles championship, while W. W. Sprague, of Savannah, shooting from the 20-yard mark broke 91 out of 100 to become recognized as the state handicap titleholder.

Mrs. W. P. Andrews, of Atlanta, one of the best women shots in the country, broke 179 out of 200 to annex the ladies' championship of the state.

J. W. Hightower, of Americus, won the professional singles title; J. C. Franklin, of Savannah, the doubles and handicap honors, with A. Cusack, of Tampa, Fla., the high-over-all honors for professionals.

New Catcher Joins Little Rock Today

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 4.—(AP)—Little Rock Southern Association club officials announced today Elmer Smith, star catcher in Arkansas collegiate circles the past three years, will join the club tomorrow in New Orleans. Smith has been asked on Tipton, second-string catcher.

Smith trained with the Travelers this spring. He was a star athlete at Hendrix College, Conway.

Ray Steele Winner In New York Bout

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Ray Steele, California, threw Sergei Kalinkoff, of Russia, in 24 minutes and 41 seconds of their heavyweight wrestling here tonight with a headlock. Steele weighed 215, Kalinkoff 240.

Wladek Zbysko, 224, Poland, threw Ferdinando Caroni, 200, Italy, in 16:34. Jim McMillen, 215, Chicago, and Herb Freeman, 218, New York, drew in a 30-minute time-limit bout.

WHATAMAN.

Quite a few college boys have played baseball and competed on the track team the same spring but Bill Meyer of Marietta College probably is the only athlete who ever stroked the varsity crew and ran the mile in the same spring. He selected hard jobs to double up on.

ANOTHER TRIAL.

Guy Cantrell, veteran pitcher who has been up and down several times has been purchased by Toronto from Detroit.

Pot Shots and Nibbles

By Zan Heyward

The followin' message, just received through a friend of mine, is the most complimentary I've ever received:

"Boss, write Mr. Zan fuh come down and do some fishin'; dere just ain't no fun fuh paddle you, or dig no bait."

If it's true that it's only the unmated rock quail that whistles "Bobwhite" in the summer, then he's just like some old bachelors that I know, still whistlin' and betherin' folks when they're old enough to know better.

If every fish that's been claimed had actually been caught there just wouldn't be any fishin' left at all.

Gettin' a line on a fellow is a lot easier than doin' the same on a fish.

When it's "Apple Blossom Time in Normandy" it's just fishin' time in Dixie.

Oldham and Mates Pay Fines to Empire

MOBILE, Ala., June 3.—(AP)—Howard Freigan, infielder, and Pitchers J. C. "Red" Oldham and Tiny Owens, of the Mobile club, paid fines of $25 each to Empire Bill Brennan here today before the start of the Little Rock game. The fines were assessed by Umpires Brennan and John Quinn as the result of a bat being thrown on the diamond at New Orleans Sunday during the second game of a double-header.

The Mobile players protested a decision by Brennan calling a ball hit by Catcher Erickson, of the Marines, to right field a foul and charged on the field, the umpires claimed. The incident was reported to President John D. Martin, of the Southern association, and the fines followed.

BRIDGES' TEAM Wins Golf Dinner.

Russell Bridges and his mates defeated a team of golfers headed by Dr. M. D. Huff Thursday afternoon on the Druid Hills course by a 14-to-10 score.

Dr. E. G. Ballenger with a 78 was medalist Thursday in the first of the qualifying rounds for play in the president's trophy tournament on the Druid Hills course.

Today and Saturday also will be given over to qualifying rounds, after which match play will start Sunday afternoon.

MOORE, HUDSON WIN MATCHES AT EAST LAKE

Young Berrien Shatters Par With 68 To Enter Finals.

Berrien Moore Jr. and Scott Hudson Jr., advanced one round further in the East Lake golf committee trophy tournament with victories Thursday afternoon on the number 2 course.

Moore entered the finals scoring a great 68 to earn a spectacular 63 victory over H. G. Graves, while Hudson entered the semi-final round with a 1 up, 45-hole victory over Charlie Yates Jr. Hudson will play R. P. Jones, Bobby's father, today or Saturday in the other semi-final match, and the winner will meet Moore for the title.

Moore's great round, three strokes under par, was one over the course record set some time ago by Frank Ball, East Lake professional. Graves played better than his normal game but could not cope with Moore's spectacular sub-par round.

Hudson and Yates had ended all square in the first 18-hole match last week. Hudson was 2 up and 5 to play Thursday when Yates rallied and stroked his way back to even terms and extra holes, only to lose on the 27th green.

Yates, Moore and Hudson, three of East Lake's youngest players, are polishing up their strokes in preparation for a strenuous summer campaign. The trio is expected to enter the southern amateur on June 16 at Chattanooga, and the Georgia amateur at Sea Island Beach in July. They also expect to play in the qualifying rounds for the national amateur tournament.

GRAND HOTEL

By VICKI BAUM

INSTALLMENT XXII.

On this evening, the fifth of Grusinskaya's appearance, the theater was positively empty. The orchestra seats were so scantily occupied that they looked ragged and moth-eaten, and the one or two people in the front row felt isolated and self-conscious. Kringlein felt the same. Except for the stage box, which had taken at Otterschlag's advice — Kringlein wished from now onwards always to have the best seats, at the movies far back, at the theater well in the front and for the ballet the front row — except for their box, which had cost him forty marks, only one other was occupied and that by the impresario, Meyerheim. Meyerheim had dispensed with the claque for this performance. It no longer justified itself and the deficit was already big enough. There was a slight outburst of applause before the interval. Pimenov quickly rang up the curtain, and Grusinskaya came to the front of the stage and smiled. She smiled to a silent house, for the feeble applause had forthwith expired and every one trooped out to the buffet. Something, too, expired in Grusinskaya's face as she stood there to acknowledge an ovation which after all was denied her. Her skin went cold beneath the sweat and the paint. Witte, standing at the conductor's desk, took his baton with trembling hand and waited with a set face for the red light which ought before this to have signaled the commencement of the next dance.

Applause. Pizzicato on the orchestra. Grusinskaya made her appearance on the stage. After all, in breathless haste she had put on the costume of the wounded dove. A large ruby-red drop of blood trembled on her white silk bodice. She is utterly tired out but as light as air and her arms move in rapid and tremulous wing beats while she gradually glides toward her piteous death. Three times she rallies but she can fly no longer. At last her long delicate neck falls forward, she lays her head on her knees and dies. A poor dove shot through the heart. A shaft of lime-light through a disc of blue glass is directed upon her wound.

Curtain and applause. There was even fairly vigorous applause, considering how empty the theater was and how few there were to clap. "Encore?" asked Grusinskaya without stirring from her pose. "Possibly—thank you," she said in Russian, and walked stiffly away to her dressing room. Sinking into a chair in front of the looking glass, she fixed her eyes on her shoes, dusty and somewhat worn silk. Her feet were weary, unutterably weary. In the mirror beneath the glare of the electric light she saw Grusinskaya, the dancer, and the costume of the Pas de deux rustled in her hands.

"Leave me alone," Grusinskaya whispered hoarsely. "I am not well. I can't go on again alone. Give me something to drink," she added, however. She wanted to strike Suzette in her worn and helpless face because she suddenly saw in it an indefinable likeness to her own. "Fiche moi la paix," she said imperiously. Suzette vanished. Grusinskaya sat listlessly where she was for a few minutes, and then she suddenly tore the silk shoes from her feet. Enough, she thought, enough! Still in lights and wearing her costume of the dove, Grusinskaya took to flight. She had only kicked off her ballet shoes and put on some others and thrown her old cloak around her and thus expressed and watched she deserted from the theater. Suzette when she hurried back from the bar with a glass of port found the dressing room empty. A note was stuck in the looking glass. "I can do no more. Lucille must dance in my place." Suzette stumbled onto the stage with it and for 10 minutes after the theater was in confusion; after that, however, the curtain went up and the program proceeded as on any other evening. Pimenov and Witte saw the evening through like old generals whose king has fled the field and who have to cover the retreat after a defeat.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Adair Park Civic League will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the George W. Adair school, according to an announcement by Mrs. J. L. Richardson.

Resolutions Committee of the W. C. T. U. took Mayor James L. Key to task in a resolution released Thursday night, deploring his alleged utterances while in France concerning the prohibition question, taxing him with having betrayed his trust as a public officer, and pointing out that, as a Sunday school teacher in a church openly and actively committed to prohibition, he had thrown discredit upon his own church by making utterances which he was in no position to prove.

An all-dance program is featured at the American Legion luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Ansley. Ray Baxter is chairman of the program committee.

Officers in the Knights of Columbus for the term beginning July 1, elected at the last meeting, are: Charles J. Kelly Jr., deputy grand knight; John A. Tichner, chancellor; Charles B. Cannon, recorder; Joseph I. Oberst, financial secretary; John

M. Harrison, treasurer; T. Ervin Dick, warden; Joseph S. Cronin, advocate; Lewis F. Gordon, trustee; F. Neiligan Fairbanks, inside guard; Gregory R. Duffy and Daniel V. McAuliffe, outside guards.

Oglethorpe University's summer school will open for registration at 8 o'clock this morning. Class start Monday. The courses offered this year are American history, English literature, Spanish, French, German, physics, chemistry, graduate English, ethics, astronomy, biology, accounting, history of education, shorthand, typing, mathematics, secondary education, education, psychology, corporate finance, sociology, history and interpretation of the Bible, comparative religion, marketing and prices and banking.

More than 100 new residents of Atlanta will be the guests of four Atlanta printing firms at a dinner sponsored by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce at 7 o'clock tonight. The new residents are the executives and employees of the Southern Freight Tariff Bureau. Horace Russell will preside. Dr. M. L. Brittain will welcome.

DAYTON HEAVY DUTY

Cash or Club Plan

Six years ago Dayton's originated the CLUB PLAN of purchasing tires and tubes—paying for them out of the family budget or other source of income—today we lead the field in this plan—CASH and CLUB—with higher QUALITY—LOWEST PRICES—AND BETTER SERVICE—than any other tire company in the CITY OF ATLANTA—quality considered.

Our Club Plan prices are slightly higher than the advertised cash prices—but we guarantee both plans to be lower in price than any other tire company in the CITY OF ATLANTA—quality considered.

Reveals Her Secret

When Miss Roslyn Ward, 19, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. H. H. Ward, of 1253 Lucile avenue, graduated Friday night from Commercial high school she announced to her surprised friends that she had been married since April 2 to Alton J. Manning, of 1252 Greenview avenue, S.W. The marriage had taken place secretly, after an engagement of about two years, and culminated what was characterized as a "childhood romance."

Following the wedding, she returned to her studies and completed her course at the high school. Manning is employed at the J. M. Tull Rubber Company. The marriage was as much a surprise to their families as it was to their friends.
